NITISH IN, ROHINI PANEL REPORT ON BACK BURNER

OBC sub-categorisation earlier seen as counter to caste census

PREETHA NAIR @ New Delhi

WITH the Nitish Kumar-led Bihar government back in the National Democratic Alliance (NDA), the Narendra Modi government seems to have put the much vaunted Rohini commission report on 'revising the reservation percentage of OBCs' on the back burner.

Justice (Retd) G Rohini

It was widely believed that the Centre would implement the Rohini panel report on sub-categorisation of OBCs to counter the Bihar government's caste survey data, which was published in October last year.

The Bihar caste data, which pegged the backward caste population at 63%, sparked a renewed demand from the Opposition for a nationwide caste census and review of reservation for the backward classes.

While the Centre was noncommittal about a national caste census, it was looking to woo the most backward classes by implementing the Rohini committee report and conferring some benefits on them, a source said. However, the Rohini panel report, which was submitted to the government in July last year, is yet to be published.

It is learnt that the report revealed that less than 1% of dominant backward castes have cornered 50% of the reservation benefits in admissions to central educational institutions and recruitment to central services. Of the 2,600 communities in the central OBC list, 938 sub-castes have no representation in the reserved seats. For equitable distribution of benefits, the commission has proposed to divide OBCs into subgroups with separate reservation percentages.

However, sources said that with Nitish Kumar's re-entry into the NDA, the BJP is confident of defusing the caste challenges from the Opposition.

"The BJP's main worry was the consolidation of the Extremely Backward Caste (EBC) vote bloc in Bihar. With Nitish, a Kurmi leader, back in the NDA, the party need not worry about the political ramifications of caste census. So, the government will keep the Rohini panel report in cold storage for the time being. The government is aware that the Rohini panel report will lead to political realignments as it sub-categorises all OBC groups," said a leader.

The commission was tasked with putting together a comprehensive pool of scientific data on sub-categories to as to ensure equitable redistribution of 27% quota benefits for OBCs among all sub-communities.

Dr Manjunath, Yaduveer among BJP's 20 candidates

ASHWINI M SRIPAD @ Bengaluru

THE BJP on Wednesday announced its candidates for 20 Lok Sabha constituencies in the state. Of them, 10 are new faces. Candidates for eight constituencies, including those to be given to JDS were not announced.

Former PM and JDS supremo HD Deve Gowda's son-in-law and well-known cardiologist Dr CN Manjunath will be BJP's candidate for Bengaluru Rural constituency. Yaduveer Krishnadatta Chamaraja Wadiyar, the scion of the erstwhile Mysuru royal family, is prominent among the new faces.

As anticipated, the BJP dropped sitting MP Pratap Simha and selected 32-year-old Yaduveer for Mysuru-Kodagu constituency. Former CM and former Union minister DV Sadananda Gowda, sitting Bengaluru North MP, has been replaced by Union Minister Shobha Karandlaje, who is Udupi-Chikkamagaluru MP. It is said Shobha has been shifted to Bengaluru North in view of stiff opposition from BJP leaders and workers in Udupi-Chikkamagaluru constituency. CONTINUED ON: P4

HC junks Congress' plea against ₹100cr tax recovery

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE @ New Delhi

IN a setback to the Congress, the Delhi High Court on Wednesday upheld the Income Tax Appellate Tribunal (ITAT)'s decision not to stay the tax demand notice to the grand old party for recovery of over ₹100 crore dues for the 2018-19 assessment year.

A division bench of judges Yashwant Varma and Purushaindra Kumar Kaurav said there appears to be no fundamental infirmity in the ITAT order of March 8 and rapped the Congress for its lackadaisical approach to the tax demand. The tax department's proceedings against the Congress had started in 2021 but the party did not do anything for two years, the court noted.

The HC, however, allowed the Congress to move a fresh stay application before the ITAT bringing to its notice the tax recovery of ₹65 crore.

● Bengaluru has seen 1,055% increase in concretisation, 88% reduction in vegetation, 79% fewer water bodies

TWO SIDES OF A STORY: (Top Left) A resident of JC Nagar, near Jayamahal Road washes cars, while the city is gripped by a water crisis. (Above) A young girl waits for her pot to be filled, in Bangarappa Nagar, as BWSSB sends free tankers to affected areas across the city | ALLEN EGENUSE J

LACK OF INTEGRATED PLAN FOR B'LURU LED TO PRESENT CRISIS

BOSKY KHANNA @ Bengaluru

THERE are multiple reasons that have led to Bengaluru facing a water crisis, but top on the list is the lack of an integrated blueprint for water management and urban growth along with it. Experts have said that while they have been raising an alarm over depleting water levels and increasing concretisation, officials are only now admitting to a bitter lesson being learnt.

A senior water resources department official said: "Just like Covid-19, the present drought, the poor rainfall and depleting groundwater level is a bitter tutor indicating that we need to go back to the drawing board."

Prof TV Ramachandra, wetlands experts and professor at Centre for Ecological Sciences, Indian Institute of Science (IISc), said, the government should stop issuing clearance for large projects. He cited the example of Sarakki lake where timely desilting, installation of STP and filling the lake with rainwater ensured replenishing groundwater in JP Nagar and surrounding areas.

But that is not the case with Bellandur and Varthur lakes. "Desilting and recharge with rainwater had to be completed by March 2021. But it's not done till date. Desilting of lakes helps in recharging groundwater levels. Also, Bengaluru receives 15 thousand million cubic feet (tmcft) rainwater. Bangalore Water Supply and Sewerage Board (BWSSB) supplies 1,470 million litres per day (MLD) water and the city generates 16 tmcft treated water which can be utilised. If all this is properly accounted for, then there is actually an excess. Had proper pits for collecting water and recharging borewells been done, then even during harsh summer, Bengaluru would not have experienced a water crisis," he said, adding that there is a 1,055% increase in concretisation, 88% reduction in vegetation and 79% fewer water bodies.

Another professor at IISc, also a water expert working with the government, said builders get clearances for large apartments without BWSSB and Bruhat Bengaluru Mahanagara Palike (BBMP) checking their assured water sources. "Borewells and water tankers cannot be considered as prime water sources. Absence of a master plan and coordination among all government agencies has led to this situation."

S Vishwanath, founder of Rainwater Club, Director of Biome Environmental Solutions and Trustee of Biome Environmental Trust, said: "When a Bengalurean spends Rs 2.5-3 crore for an apartment, why does he not ask for a water source?"

BWSSB Chairman Ram Prasath Manohar said water problem is only in 110 villages, where there is no Cauvery water connection. The government has delayed the completion of the Cauvery Phase-5 project by more than a year. This phase, when completed, will supply 750 million litres per day (MLD) of water to these 110 villages.

Government sources said: "If the situation is carefully assessed, the areas facing water crisis are the same that were flooded in June 2022 when the city received 80mm rain in 24hours. This shows there is zero space for water percolation and recharge. Drains and river networks are encroached, due to which there was flooding... and now there is water scarcity."

AR Shivakumar, rainwater harvesting expert, said Bengaluru is 50% dependent on groundwater and now their yield has dropped by 40%. The government is now seeking an account of borewells. This should have been done earlier. Despite government orders, many are yet to install rainwater harvesting units even as the government has no account of how many are serving the required purpose.

IISc LAUNCHES TWO PORTALS TO SEE LIVE CONDITION OF THE CITY, ITS LAKES

The IISc, on Wednesday, launched two portals, to see the change in land use pattern for the last 20 years and the current on-ground situation of the urban landscape and the water bodies. The portals - Bangalore Urban Information System (BUIS) and Bangalore Lakes Information System (BLIS) - give real time data of the ground condition in the form of animated video. Explaining the portals, Prof TV Ramachandra from IISc, said, "My team has worked on this for two and half decades. Earlier, we had launched a portal showing the real time condition of the regions in Western Ghats. Using the similar technology, we can now see geo-coordinate wise live condition of Bengaluru. The physical and environmental parameters along with encroachment details of all the 193 water bodies can be seen live, using BLIS. The lake boundary has already been mapped and the data of the 1971 base maps have been used. Live condition using satellite imagery has been superimposed on it. As per information, 98% of lakes are encroached, 92% receive untreated sewage and heavy metals," he said.

BWSSB DIRECTIVE WON'T AFFECT OPERATION OF SWIMMING POOLS: ASSOCIATION

With the BWSSB prohibiting the use of drinking water for filling swimming pools, swimming pool associations have asserted that they have never utilized potable or drinking water and are not permitted to use Cauvery water for commercial activities. The BWSSB in its order on Tuesday, stated that individuals found in violation will face a fine of Rs 5,000, with repeat offenders subject to an additional penalty of Rs 500 on top of the initial fine of Rs 5,000, besides filing a case against violators. Rohit Babu, Swimming Development Officer at Karnataka Swimming Association, said, "Despite the misconception that swimming pools are refilled daily, they are only filtered and not refilled for periods spanning 15-30 days. Every 15-30 days, the pool water is filtered using industrial methods, removing contaminated water, which is only 10% of the total volume. The remaining water is filtered and replenished." Babu said that since the business relies on non-potable or hard water, operations will continue as usual.

EXAM DRAMA

Pvt unaided schools have vested interest in disputing boards: State

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE
@ Bengaluru

THE state government argued before the Karnataka High Court that the petitioners -- the private unaided schools -- who have challenged its decision to conduct board exams for Classes 5, 8 and 9, have a vested interest.

The state argued that certain unaided private schools affiliated with petitioners' organisations don't even teach the syllabus prescribed by the state. The students in these schools are not even able to answer questions asked during the inspection. Moreover, neither the parents nor the students have challenged the government's decision to conduct the board examinations, which shows the vested interest of the petitioners, the state government told the court.

Additional Advocate General Vikram Huilgol made these submissions before the division bench of Justice K Somashekar and Justice Rajesh Rai K, during the hearing of the appeal filed by the state government, questioning the order dated March 6, passed by the single judge bench, quashing the state government's decision to conduct board exams for Class 5, 8, 9 and 11 in schools affiliated to the Karnataka School Examination and Assessment Board (KSEAB).

The single judge quashed the state's decision by allowing the petition filed by the Registered Unaided Private Schools Management Association Karnataka and the Organisation For Unaided Recognised Schools, questioning the legality of the government's decision.

Against this order, the appeals were filed by the state government before the division bench, which permitted the state to conduct board exams as per the schedule, from March 11, by staying the single judge's order, on March 7. Thereafter, Registered Unaided Private Schools Management Association Karnataka, a petitioner, approached the Supreme Court, by filing a special leave petition against the division bench's interim order.

On March 12, observing that the division bench should not have permitted the state government to proceed further with the examination since the state government's decision had already been set aside by a single judge, the Supreme Court set aside the interim order of the division bench, and directed the division bench to decide the appeals on merit. Therefore, the division bench took up the appeals for hearing on Wednesday. Further hearing will be continued on Thursday.

Parking woes, bad drivers stress out city's car owners

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE @ Bengaluru

SIXTY-three per cent of car owners in Bengaluru struggle to find a legal and safe spot to park their cars, revealed a Bengaluru-centric survey carried out by Park Plus, a car owner-focused app. The survey was answered by 22,000 car owners in the city, and was undertaken to understand anxiety triggers for car owners driving on Bengaluru roads.

Parking continues to be a major concern for car owners in Bengaluru, with limited parking spaces leading to frustration and anxiety. Additionally, the survey revealed that lack of enforcement of parking rules exacerbates the problem, causing further stress for drivers.

The survey said the lack of designated legal parking areas in busy commercial areas adds to chaos and congestion on the roads, and this combination of factors contributes to the daily traffic gridlock that plagues Bengaluru, making commuting a nightmare for car owners.

Park Plus survey said that 'road rage' emerged as the foremost trigger for anxiety among Bengaluru car owners. "The main causes of road rage are frequent traffic jams, congested roads, inadequate infrastructure, two-wheelers swerving between cars and buses, disregard for traffic laws (i.e., speeding, illegal parking, wrong-side driving) and aggressive driving behaviour such as honking, tailgating and cutting off other vehicles," it added.

These factors contribute to the overall stress and anxiety experienced by car owners while navigating Bengaluru's roads, the survey revealed.

Civic body's assurances on water crisis a media stunt, say residents

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE
@Bengaluru

DAYS after BBMP and BWSSB stated that civic agencies will tackle the water supply issues, as the government has sanctioned Rs 131 crore for repairing existing borewells, drilling new ones, and pressing tankers, the residents of Mahadevapura Zone said that the agencies' assurance is just a 'media stunt'.

Kochu Shankar, member of Ramamurthy Nagar Resident Welfare Association, said, "It's been almost 10 days since the officials made statements in the media about tackling the situation, and the situation has only worsened. Dozens of borewells were drilled, but the motor is yet to be fixed and pipes have not been installed, as there is no government order. The vendor says he will not be able to get GST benefits without a work order. As a result, people have to depend on private water tankers."

"We cannot raise the bill and seek GST return benefits later, if we carry out work without government order now. In a day or two, the orders will be issued, and only then we will start the work," said a contractor.

"A tanker owner said he cannot fill the sumps of each home, and will only send tankers to the streets and residents has to bring pots and fill water from there. This adds to the confusion. The officials also have appointed a nodal officer for coordination. But there are 12 villages in the Horamavu area. How will the officials ensure smooth supply of water, has to be seen," stated Shankar.

ARIES (Mar 21 - Apr. 20)
There is a very close relationship between your emotions and your physical well-being, one which you would do well to explore at the moment. You see, if you can understand the pressures that undermine your health, you'll be better fitted to take preventative measures.

TAURUS (Apr. 21 - May 21)
The Moon is currently a profoundly pleasurable planet, although there does seem to be something holding you back. Why are you afraid to let go? Are you restrained by the pressure of social taboos and expectations? If so, try to find whatever way you can to explain exactly what you want.

GEMINI (May 22 - June 21)
Sometimes people at home really have to shout to grab your atten-tion, but when you get moving there is no one as efficient, skilled and organised as you. The only question at the moment is will you be prepared to give way to unreasonable demands?

CANCER (June 22 - July 23)
It's a day for short trips and useful meetings. Those of you who have arranged interviews and other meetings for today can afford to congratulate yourselves on your deep foresight. It's also an ideal moment for counting your cash, piling up profits for the future.

LEO (July 24 - Aug. 23)
You're in a strong position today, and I don't think anyone will get the better of you. But I am afraid that you have no option but to deal with financial trivia. I must say that if you ignore essential details now, you may find that your costs increase quite unnecessarily over the coming months.

VIRGO (Aug. 24 - Sept. 23)
The Moon lines up with Mercury and Venus, but in different ways. I'm telling you this just to let you know that at least three planets are working in your favour and therefore that your deeper interests are being protected. You'll combine enthusiasm with practical skill, so there's no excuse for failure.

LIBRA (Sept. 24 - Oct. 23)
Only rarely are you afforded the chance to expand your horizons. Yet, when the opportunity does come, you need to know how to respond. Personal matters may now work out for the best if you are able to build on existing skills and past experience.

SCORPIO (Oct. 24 - Nov. 22)
You must be prepared to consider certain long-term plans and not become bogged down by short-term pressures. However, even now, you should not allow yourself to be bulldozed into rash decisions. Partners need to learn that you are your own person, not an extension of their egos.

SAGITTARIUS (Nov. 23 - Dec. 22)
It looks as if somebody is going to pile on the pressure at work. In addition, you must still complete certain tasks at home. It is a simple matter to reconcile such conflicting demands, just as long as you decide what is truly important and what you can leave up to other people.

CAPRICORN (Dec. 23 - Jan. 20)
A rather disturbing or distressing phase should now lie well and truly in the past. Your planets are thankfully helping you to heal old wounds and create the personal conditions necessary for a happy future. And a happy future, incidentally, will be a busy one.

AQUARIUS (Jan. 21 - Feb. 19)
I am sure that other people have made you hot under the collar, probably because they don't seem capable of making up their minds or following through the implications of their decisions. But, as far as family relationships are concerned, you may be a little perplexed.

PISCES (Feb. 20 - Mar 20)
Your desire to move on, move away or generally regain a measure of freedom is praiseworthy, but no less muddled for that. I think that you still have some way to go before the pros and cons are clear. And, for that reason, you can afford to postpone a decision.

BITCOIN SCAM: ACCUSED COP SAYS VENDETTA BEHIND SIT CASE

Absconding inspector makes allegations in anticipatory bail petition

YATHIRAJU @ Bengaluru

A police inspector, an accused in the Bitcoin scam case, has made serious allegations that the the Special Investigation Team (SIT) of the Criminal Investigation Department (CID), probing the case, has been pressurised by the present Congress government to re-register the case as the ruling party wants political vendetta against the previous BJP government.

This is to help the main accused in the crime. The case was first registered in 2020, but investigating officers (IOs) in that case have now been made scapegoats, he alleged.

The inspector, Chandradhara SR (44), who works at the Armed Police Training School in Yelahanka and is absconding now, made these allegations in his anticipatory bail petition filed before the 51st Additional City Civil and Sessions Court.

Special Public Prosecutor (SPP) BN Jagadeesha countered, saying that when Chandradhara was investigating the case in 2020, 31 Bitcoins worth Rs 9 crore were shown to have been recovered, but they are untraceable now. Chandradhara had given an explanation that the accused had manipulated the Bitcoin core application and misled the investigation. But he failed to investigate further as to how, why and when the accused tampered with the core application, the SPP argued.

Jagadeesha contended that the main accused, Srikrishna Ramesh alias Shriki, who had been illegally detained by Chandradhara, was taken to the office of GCID Technologies. There, Sriki logged into the Amazon Web Services account and transferred 31 Bitcoins. Later a mahazar report was prepared on January 8, 2021. Again on January 22, 2021, another mahazar was drawn, stating that the transfer of 31 Bitcoins was a false transaction, and no Bitcoins were transferred. The mahazar was unauthorisedly prepared at the GCID office, but was shown to have been done at the Cyber Crime Police Station, Adugodi, he argued.

Chandradhara produced Shriki before the court through video-conferencing from the GCID office, but claimed that it was being done at the CCB office. Another accused Robin Khandelwala, when in police custody from January 6, 2021 till February 19, 2021, was taken to the GCID office. He was made to transfer Rs 99,000 from his Paytm account and purchase Bitcoins from Wazir Exchange. Again on January 16, 2021, Rs 2,53,160 from Robin's Paytm account was transferred illegally and Bitcoins were purchased from Wazir Exchange. This clearly shows that Chandradhara is also part of a criminal conspiracy, the SPP said.

Judge Yashawanth Kumar noted that Chandradhara, who had the duty to investigate the case and to bring the culprits to book, had used his investigating power for illegal acts such as illegal detention of the accused, hacking crypto wallets, websites and gaming apps, etc., to make illegal gains.

The allegations against Chandradhara, who is absconding, are more serious. He is claiming that he is cooperating with the investigation, but the SPP stated that the voluntary statement given by him earlier is false and it does not corroborate with the investigation. The custodial interrogation of the petitioner is required, the judge said, rejecting the police officer's anticipatory bail application.

TO reach nearly 10 lakh under-served people across the state, Health Minister Dinesh Gundu Rao launched a comprehensive Eye Care Programme with innovative, indigenous health technology, on Wednesday.

The program, in line with the Karnataka State Vision Care Program - Asha Kirana - under the National Health Mission's National Program for Control of Blindness and Visual Impairment (NPCBVI), aims to deploy ophthalmic devices for leveraging digital solutions and cloud-based technology to eliminate preventable blindness from 5 years to over 70 years.

The initiative aims to tackle challenges through various technological solutions, including a handheld auto refractometer with wavefront aberrometer-based technology to screen refractive errors, and an AI-based Fundus camera, capable of capturing retina images without pupil dilation, targeting adult population with retinopathies, glaucoma, and macular edema.

It also incorporates AI for disease detection, aiding ophthalmologists in condition identification, patient data storage, and medical record management. It will be included in 24/7 PHCs, CHCs, taluk hospitals, and bus depots for transport personnel screening.

Understanding Chronic Kidney Disease and Empowering Change

Human beings are endowed with two amazing kidneys. They are the size of our fist and located beneath the rib cage deep inside the abdomen. The main function of the kidneys is to remove toxins and excess water from the blood. They also have other functions like keeping blood pressure under control, maintaining healthy bones, and producing red blood cells, among others. It is imperative for us to keep our kidneys healthy.

Chronic kidney disease (CKD) is a condition in which the kidneys are irreversibly damaged. Diabetes and hypertension are the leading causes of CKD. CKD is a silent disease as it has no symptoms or very few non-specific symptoms in the early stages. It is a major public health issue in developed and developing nations. There is no cure for CKD as of today. At best, we can slow down the progression of the disease. CKD affects almost all the organs of our body, and its complications result in a poor quality of life.

Approximately 850 million people worldwide have CKD. It is presently the 8th leading cause of death. Until recently, our efforts in treating CKD have centered around preparing for and delivering renal replacement therapy. Recently, medications have been developed which can prevent or delay the disease and mitigate cardiovascular complications, which have been the leading causes of morbidity and mortality in CKD patients. The widespread use of these medications will result in a significant improvement in the quality of life of CKD patients.

World Kidney Day (WKD) is celebrated on the second Thursday of March every year. It started in the year 2006. The idea behind WKD is to create awareness about the importance of our kidneys and the vital role they play in our health. This year, WKD falls on the 14th of March. The theme of this WKD is "Kidney Health For All – Advancing equitable access to care and optimal medication practice."

The new therapies (SGLT2 inhibitors, Non-steroidal Mineralocorticoid receptor antagonists) that are available today should be accessible to all patients worldwide. Lack of CKD awareness, insufficient knowledge or confidence with newer therapies, shortage of kidney specialists, and high cost of medications are barriers that cause profound disparities in accessing treatment. The focus should be to overcome these barriers through a multipronged strategy and ensuring kidney health for all.

BJP K'TAKA LIST

Joshi retains Dharwad, Bommai gets Haveri

Party yet to announce candidate for Belagavi, Jagadish Shettar likely to be accommodated there

PRAMODKUMAR VAIDYA @ Hubballi

UNION Minister for Parliamentary Affairs Pralhad Joshi has been renominated to contest from the Dharwad parliamentary constituency for the upcoming general elections. This will be Joshi's fifth time contesting from the Dharwad segment and he has won four times consecutively. In a post on X, Joshi expressed his gratitude to Prime Minister Narendra Modi, Union Home Minister Amit Shah, BJP national president JP Nadda, former chief minister BS Yediyurappa and all party leaders for nominating him as the BJP candidate for the Dharwad constituency.

For the first time, it seems, Joshi tried hard to secure the ticket. He probably would have not lobbied so hard when he contested for the first time in 2004, as he then had the backing of late HN Ananthkumar and Jagadish Shettar. However, this time, Shettar himself posed as a strong contender.

Until Shettar's return from Congress, everything was in favour of Joshi, except for some remote disgruntled voices, that too from followers of Shettar. With the reentry of the former chief minister, the Lingayat lobby had started campaigning and the social media too seemed to lean towards a Lingayat candidate for Dharwad, which was an indirect pitch for Shettar.

As the saffron party's Lingayat voter base seemed to have eroded in the 2023 Assembly elections, it was reasoned that desertions by Lingayat leaders Shettar and Laxman Savadi were the reason for the loss. The party central leadership too was cautious before making any decision on the constituency, BJP sources said.

> As the saffron party's Lingayat voter base seemed to have eroded in the 2023 Assembly elections, it was reasoned that desertions by Lingayat leaders Shettar and Laxman Savadi were the reason for the loss
>
> BJP leader

It is said that Central Parliamentary Committee member BS Yediyurappa and BJP state unit president BY Vijayendra were behind bringing Shettat back to the party and father and the father-son duo was firmly backing Shettar's candidature. But the party Central leadership was hesitant as it wanted to use Shettar's influence in Haveri or Belagavi segments. The party has not yet announced a candidate for Belagavi and it is likely that Shettar would be accommodated there.

In the meantime, former chief minister Basavaraj Bommai, an MLA of Shiggaon in Haveri district, will fight his first Lok Sabha elections from the Haveri-Gadag segment. His candidature was speculated right after BJP lost power in the state last year. Fielding a new candidate was inevitable as sitting MP Shivakumar Udasi had refused to contest.

While former minister B Sriramulu has been fielded from the Ballary-ST reserved constituency as expected, dropping incumbent MP Y Devendrappa, the party has denied the ticket to Sanganna Karadi for Koppal, the sitting MP, and decided to field Dr Basavaraj Kavatur.

BJP replaces Kateel with army veteran

VINCENT D'SOUZA @Mangaluru

THE BJP has selected 43-year-old Capt Brijesh Chowta as its candidate for the Dakshina Kannada Lok Sabha constituency by replacing three-time MP Nalin Kumar Kateel.

The change did not come as a big surprise to many as there were talks about the replacement for quite sometime now. When Chowta was made BJP state secretary a few months ago, it was clear that the party was seriously considering him.

A source said the change was expected as there was anti-incumbency against Kateel. Also, there was a yearning among party workers and general public since long to see a fresh and well-educated face as an MP from Dakshina Kannada which is one of the top literate districts in the state. Kateel was under attack many times for his inability to converse in English or Hindu which many believe is a basic requirement for an MP.

Hindutva workers had launched a campaign to replace Kateel which got intensive after Arun Kumar Puttila rebelled against the BJP after he was denied ticket to contest from Puttur in 2023 assembly election. Recently, Puttila had announced that he will contest the Lok Sabha election and it was seen as an attempt to put pressure on the party high command to replace Kateel. Kateel not being in the good books of party veteran B S Yediyurappa also worked against him ultimately.

After his schooling in Milagres School, Chowta did his B.Sc from St Aloysius College and Executive Business Management programme from the Indian Institute of Management, Indore. In 2003, he was commissioned into the 7th battalion of the 8 Gorkha Rifles, served in counter-insurgency operations in Assam and Manipur and was part of the elite Ghatak team. He also served as an adjutant to the battalion till 2010. He joined BJP in 2013 and worked in various capacities. He is an organiser of Mangaluru Kambala and Mangaluru Lit Fest.

In a post on 'X', Chowta thanked Prime Minister Narendra Modi for the opportunity and said he will work towards making Dakshina Kannada number one in the state.

Meanwhile, Kateel welcomed the party's decision to nominate Chowta, saying the change was in line with the party's thinking of giving opportunity to new faces and thereby expanding the party's base and activities. He hoped that Chowta wins by a margin of more than 3 lakh votes. Kateel hinted that the party may want him to work for the organisation.

He said six months ago, the party high command had sought his opinion and he had told them that he is ready to make way for a new face.

BJP's alliance partner JDS is likely to take Hassan, Mandya and Kolar

Gowda & sons offer apology, ask cadres to forgive mistakes

BR UDAYA KUMAR @Hassan

WITH the Lok Sabha elections nearing, JDS patriarch HD Deve Gowda, his sons – former chief minister HD Kumaraswamy and HD Revanna – and grandson Prajwal Revanna on Wednesday tendered an apology to party workers and asked them to forgive them if they had committed any mistakes inadvertently.

Though the JDS-BJP alliance is yet to announce a candidate for the Hassan parliamentary constituency, Prajwal, who represents the seat now, will most likely to contest from here. The Wednesday meeting was the official election campaign by the party. Congress has announced Shrayas Patel, the grandson of Congress leader and former minister late G Puttaswamy Gowda, as its candidate from the Hassan constituency, the bastion of JDS supremo HD Deve Gowda.

In his 35-minute emotional speech, Kumaraswamy urged the gathering to work for Prajwal. He told them not to punish the Gowda family by defeating Prajwal in Gowda's hometown of Hassan.

He said BJP and JDS workers should put sincere efforts to retain the Hassan seat. "You should look at him as my son. This election is challenging, but a positive message should be sent out from here to the nation by electing him," he added. JDS will have a good relationship with BJP till the other party has love and faith for JDS, he added. He lauded the NDA government, led by Prime minister Narendra Modi, for protecting the interests of minorities by releasing over Rs 200 crore grants for schools and hostels for minorities in the state.

He challenged Siddaramaiah to release the caste census and Jayaprakash commission reports. "Who has tied his hands," he questioned.

The former chief minister said he has decided not to contest the parliamentary elections. Alleging a conspiracy to finish off JDS, the state party president said he will not allow JDS to die and will work to strengthen the party.

'Won't tolerate Yatnal mocking Lingayat leaders'

Bengaluru: In a stern warning to Vijayapura City MLA Basanagouda Patil Yatnal for his statements against community leader Shanamur Shivashankarappa, BS Yediyurappa, and BY Vijayendra, the Veershaiva Mahasabha on Wednesday asked the legislator to tread cautiously and not disrupt the leadership and the unity of the community. "We cannot tolerate these kinds of public utterances anymore," the Mahasabha said. "If he (Yatnal) fails to fall in line, we may have to discipline him," Veerashaiva Mahasabha secretary Renuka Prasanna said. He further added that there was someone in the BJP who was using Yatnal to attack the party's Lingayat leadership. The Mahasabha, in a strongly worded statement, said the community organisation will not tolerate Yatnal mocking and belittling the Lingayat leaders on public platforms. They said that their silence should not be construed as weakness. It may be recalled that Yatnal had claimed Yediyurappa had not helped any Lingayat leader and that he was not a Lingayat, and he also said Vijayendra had tried to defeat him in last year's Assembly polls. -- Bansy Kalappa

FORMER Union minister GM Siddeshwara, sitting Davanagere MP, has been dropped. Instead, the BJP selected his wife Gayathri Siddeshwara as its candidate for Davanagere. Former BJP state president Nalinkumar Kateel has been replaced by BJP state secretary Capt Brijesh Chowta for Dakshina Kannada.

Former chief minister Basavaraj Bommai will contest from Haveri, while V Somanna, B Sriramulu and Kota Srinivas Poojary, who were ministers in the Bommai cabinet, will be fielded from Tumakuru, Ballari and Udupi-Chikkamagaluru constituencies, respectively.

Sriramulu and Somanna lost the Assembly elections last year, while Poojary is now Leader of Opposition in the state Legislative Council. Among the 20 candidates, two are women. Union ministers Shobha Karandlaje, Bhagwanth Khuba and Pralhad Joshi are seeking re-election.

PC Mohan, Bengaluru Central, Tejasvi Surya (Bengaluru South), PC Gaddigoudar (Bagalkot), Anna Saheb Jolle (Chikkodi), BY Raghavendra (Shivamogga), Dr Umesh Jadav (Gulbarga) and Ramesh Jigajinagi (Bijapur) are the other sitting MPs contesting the LS polls.

Former director of Jayadeva Institute of Cardiology Dr Manjunath will be contesting against DK Suresh of Congress in Bengaluru Rural constituency. Dr Basavaraj Kyavator is a surprise choice of the party, who will contest from Koppal constituency. Dr Basavaraj is an orthopedic surgeon and is the son of former MLA from Kustagi K Sharanappa.

Chamarajanagar candidate S Balaji was Kollegal MLA earlier. Of the 20 candidates, eight are Lingayats, three SCs, two Brahmins, two Vokkaligas, one ST, one Bunt, and three from Other Backward Classes. BJP sources said former chief minister BS Yediyurappa had a major say in the selection of these candidates.

Karadi dropped in Koppal, newbie in fray

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE @ Hubballi

BJP has sprung a surprise by fielding Dr Basavarj Kyavatur from the Koppal parliamentary constituency, dropping sitting MP Sanganna Karadi. By replacing the two-time MP Karadi with the new face, the saffron party has gambled and could face the wrath of the MP's followers. Dr Kyavatur said his efforts to secure the party ticket has finally borne fruit. "I will make efforts to win the confidence of all party leaders and workers and fight the election confidently," he added.

Dr Kyavator is not new to politics as his father K Sharanappa contested the 1994 election from the Kushtagi Assembly segment and won on a Janata Dal ticket. Sharanappa went into a political hibernation after losing subsequent elections but remained with the Janata Dal (Secular). He deserted the party ahead of the 2019 parliament election and joined BJP.

Despite being a physician, Dr Kyavatur was closely associated with political activities and was pursuing his political career in the shadow of his father. Once the latter joined BJP, he automatically came to the saffron party and became active in the party. His name was making rounds in the previous election for the Koppal segment, but the party leadership stuck to senior leader Karadi.

In fact, it was speculated that the party could stick with Karadi, a strong Lingyat leader, this time too, but central leaders have acted otherwise this time.

A MYSURU ROYAL IN RACE AFTER 20 YEARS

KARTHIK KK @ Mysuru

Supporters of Mysuru-Kodagu MP Pratap Simha stage a protest demanding that the BJP give him a ticket, in Mysuru on Wednesday | UDAYASHANKAR S

IN a strategic move, the BJP has announced its candidates for the upcoming Lok Sabha elections, opting for fresh faces in both the Mysuru-Kodagu and Chamarajanagar constituencies. The decision to field new candidates signals the party's intent to retain its hold on these constituencies while also grooming new leaders in the region.

Amidst speculation and turmoil, the incumbent MP for Mysuru-Kodagu, Pratap Simha, was denied the ticket, paving the way for Yaduveer Krishnadatta Chamaraja Wadiyar, scion of the erstwhile Mysuru Royal family. His candidacy marks the entry of a member of the Mysuru Royal family into politics after nearly two decades. The move is seen as strategic, with many, including party leaders, viewing it as an opportunity to secure victory on Chief Minister Siddaramaiah's home turf.

Yaduveer's entry into politics marks a significant moment, considering the absence of participation from the Wadiyar family since Srikantadatta Narasimharaja Wadiyar's tenure as a four-time Mysuru MP, who contested on a Congress ticket and served from 1999 to 2004. The resurgence of a member of the royal family has fueled ambitions among the people, who hope to witness the emergence of another young leader from the constituency.

While Srikantadatta Wadiyar's successful stints on the Congress ticket are remembered, the BJP is leaving no stone unturned to ensure Yaduveer's victory, despite initial dissent from Simha. However, Simha seems to have been pacified by party leaders, who, as soon as the ticket was announced, tweeted welcoming Yaduveer and said, "Let's plunge into campaigning to ensure the victory of Modi in the upcoming polls."

Meanwhile, the BJP has taken a bold step in Chamarajanagar (SC reserved) seat by eschewing dynastic politics. The party's decision to deny tickets to V Srinivas Prasad's son-in-laws, Harshavardhan and Dr Mohan, and instead field former MLA S Balaraj highlights a departure from conventional political strategies. Balaraj's shift from Congress to the BJP underscores the party's efforts to consolidate its base in the region.

Cafe blast: NIA picks up man from Ballari

KIRAN BALANNANAVAR @Ballari

THE National Investigation Agency (NIA) detained a 42-year-old man from Cowl Bazar area of Ballari city early on Wednesday morning in connection with The Rameshwaram Cafe bomb blast case. The police said an NIA team picked him up from his house and took him to Bengaluru where he was released after interrogation.

He is a resident of Ballari and works as an electrician at a private company. The NIA questioned him as he is suspected to be the person who spoke to the main suspect who planted the bomb. As per CCTV footage, the suspected bomber was seen talking to the detainee outside the Ballari bus stand on March 1, the same day the bomb went off. So far, the NIA team has detained three youth from Ballari.

As per CCTV footage, the main suspect directly came to Ballari in a bus from Tumakuru and his movement was captured in the KSRTC central bus stand.

"The prime suspect and detainee were seen having a conversation near the bus stand. It's suspected that a call was also made from one of their mobiles. Based on the statement of Minaz alias Suleman (27), who was arrested last year for alleged anti-national activities from Ballari and is already in the custody of NIA, officials detained the 42-year-old man. The detainee's residence is next to Minaz's house," said a police source.

The NIA on Wednesday clarified that no arrests have been made in connection with the case. The local police said the NIA is interrogating several people and they will be let off if they have no connection with the perpetrators.

Tata Motors to set up ₹9k cr plant in TN

Unit in Ranipet to generate 5,000 jobs

C SHIVAKUMAR @Chennai

TATA Motors has signed a memorandum of understanding with Tamil Nadu government, committing an investment of Rs 9,000 crore to establish a cutting-edge vehicle manufacturing facility in the state, Industries Minister TRB Rajaa said on Wednesday. The proposed facility to be set up on 500 acres in Ranipet district would generate 5,000 jobs, an official release said.

Tata Motors CFO PB Balaji and V Vishnu, MD&CEO, Guidance Tamil Nadu, exchanged documents in the presence of Chief Minister MK Stalin. Industries Minister TRB Rajaa, commerce and industries secretary Arun Roy, and senior officials of TATA Motors Group were present. Addressing reporters in Chennai, the minister said the facility will be a greenfield plant and the first manufacturing facility of Tata Motors in Tamil Nadu. "We have offered good incentive for the company. But incentive alone is not a factor. Companies like Tata Motors also look at the available eco-system. Tamil Nadu is a rich state in automobile sector eco-system," the minister said. Tata Motors said it would also employ women workforce at the plant.This for the first time the state has attracted two big automobile manufacturing investments within a span of just two months, the minister said.

Earlier, VinFast, Vietnam's leading electric vehicle (EV) manufacturer, signed an MoU to invest $2 billion for setting up an integrated electric vehicle facility in Thoothukudi. The carmaker has allocated $500 million to set up the first phase of the facility over the next five years and the ground breaking ceremony was held last month, the minister said.

Hailing the Dravidian model, the minister said the state's infrastructure, ease of doing business, safety for women, and high happiness index make large companies want to invest in the state. Hailing the Naan Mudhalvan scheme, which is aimed at ensuring right skill training for students, the minister said the presence of skilled work force is attracting more global investors to Tamil Nadu compared to other states.

Centre offers ₹5k cr with riders. No thanks, says Kerala

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE
@ T'Puram

THE Kerala government on Wednesday took a bold stand in the Supreme Court and rejected the central government's conditional offer for an additional borrowing worth Rs 5,000 crore as a one-time measure. The state reiterated the demand for its legal entitlement of at least Rs 10,000 crore. The apex court will hear its plea for interim relief on March 21. At the hearing before the Apex Court on Wednesday, Additional Solicitor General N Venkataraman informed the court that the centre was ready to give sanction for additional borrowing under five stringent conditions. Foremost was that the amount will be adjusted from the net borrowing ceiling for the first nine months in the next fiscal. Also, no ad hoc borrowing will be allowed and that the state should implement the Plan B for resource mobilisation before the last quarter of 2024-25. Plan B was a budget announcement of the state government. Another condition was that the consent for borrowing in the year 2024-25 will be issued only if the state submits certain documents from the state government. Besides, the consent for borrowing for the first nine months will be issued on a quarterly basis. This would be for upto 25 pc of the eligibility, arrived after deducting Rs 5,000 crore.

Opposing the offer, senior advocate Kapil Sibal said the state should get at least Rs 10,000 crore which was a legal entitlement. He criticised that the centre's offer appeared like a 'concession' whereas additional sanction was the state's entitlement. Through the conditional offer, the centre was trying to control the state's expenditures. This amounted to a violation of the principles of federalism, he said. Stressing the interim relief plea, Kerala's counsel exuded confidence that he can explain the claim on legal entitlement. The state also rejected the court's suggestion to accept the offer for Rs 5000 crore and to demand more in the next hearing. The state perceived that the stringent conditions mooted by the Centre was a trap.

HC orders status quo over Sharavathi project

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE
@ Bengaluru

THE Karnataka High Court directed that all actions pursuant to the letter of award dated March 11, 2024, assigning work after tenders were called for Sharavathi Pumped Storage Hydro Electric Project (8x250MW), Upper Dam (Shivamogga) and Lower Dam (Uttara Kannada) districts by Karnataka Power Corporation Limited (KPCL) at a cost of Rs 8,005 crore shall remain in abeyance. The parties shall maintain status quo till the next date of hearing.

A division bench of Chief Justice NV Anjaria and Justice Krishna S Dixit passed the order on March 11 after hearing the appeal filed by Larsen and Toubro Limited (L & T) questioning the single judge order dated March 6.

Noting that the petitioner, not having participated in the tender, cannot challenge any conditions of tender, the single judge dismissed the petition filed by L&T, challenging the modification of the last date fixed for submission of bid documents, by way of corrigendum dated February 17, 2024.

Senior counsel representing the appellant argued before the division bench that after the order was passed by the single judge, KPCL has already issued a letter of award dated March 11 assigning the tender work. If any further action is permitted at the end of KPCL as well as by the awardee of the contract, it will not only precipitate the subject matter but will also render the appeal virtually infructuous, he argued.

Then the division bench noted that since the appeal is at large before this court on its merits to be examined in respect of the order of the single judge awaited to be available, the letter of award deserved to be kept in abeyance. Once the order of a single judge is available, either party is at liberty to move the appeal, the division bench said.

Ivory Coast footballer attacked, racially abused

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE
@Malappuram

A FOOTBALLER from Ivory Coast was attacked and allegedly called racial slurs by spectators during a match in Malappuram last week, in an incident that threatens to dent Kerala's image as a progressive state.

Hasan Jr, a player from the West African nation, filed a complaint with the Malappuram district police chief on Wednesday in connection with the assault on him during a sevens football match organised at Chemrakkattur in Areekode on March 10. He alleged the spectators hurled racial slurs at him. Hasan has submitted the footage of the mob attack, which went viral, at the SP office.

However, eyewitnesses alleged that Hasan beat up one of the audience members during the match, causing the crowd to retaliate. Hasan refuted the claim.

"The spectators tried to provoke me using racial slurs and even threw stones. When I responded, they attacked me," Hasan told reporters after filing the complaint. He said this was the first time in his career that he had faced such an attack. "I feel scared to continue playing in Kerala. I will file a complaint at the Ivory Coast Embassy in New Delhi," he said.

The Malappuram district police chief told TNIE that "maximum punishment will be ensured to those who racially abused the Ivory Coast player and subjected him to brutal mob beating. A special cell will be formed at the Areekode police station for the investigation."

An official with the Areekode police said an FIR has been registered. "We have recorded Hasan's statement. As per the SP's instructions, a special probe team will be formed, and action will be taken against culprits after recording witness statements and examining the video circulating on social media," the official said, adding the actual reason behind the attack can be ascertained only after taking the statements.

Meanwhile, agents of foreign players in Malappuram expressed concern over the issue. "Small clashes between fans during sevens matches are usual. However, this is the first time a player has been attacked by spectators. Several players from African countries are in Malappuram playing for various sevens clubs, and all of them expressed concern over the incident," said P Fazil, an agent.

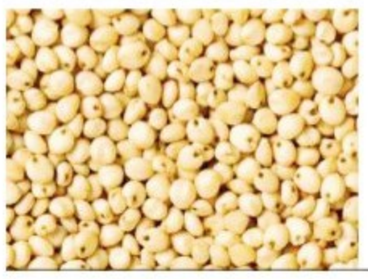
Jowar prices plummet, farmers suffer loss amid drought in Gadag

RAGHOTTAM KOPPAR @Gadag

FARMERS of Gadag are worried as prices of jowar have seen a sudden decline since the past ten days. Following the downward trend of red chilli prices, farmers are forced to face consecutive losses amid the drought situation. While the price of jowar was about Rs 7,000-8,000 per quintal in the last month, the present price has dropped to Rs 2,500-3,500. The prices have a taken a blow as farmers continue bringing more jowar to market when the crop quality has been poor due to scanty rain this year.

One of the major crops in both North and Kalyan Karnataka, Jowar is grown in Koppal, Haveri, Gadag, Bidar, Dharwad and other districts. Many farmers had taken to jowar cultivation hoping it would fetch them a good price. However, those who sowed white jowar seeds and chilli crops in North Karnataka have now been plunged into financial crisis. While some farmers went to sell their produce at the Bengaluru market for Rs 4,000 per quintal, transportation costs have offset any of their potential gain. Meanwhile, some farmers have stored their jowar in a warehouse in hopes of better prices in the future.



> Economically sound farmers have stored their jowar. But, small farmers are forced to sell suffering devastating losses. Drought has affected many farmers in Karnataka.
> Prakash Neeralagi, farmer

Prakash Neeralagi, a farmer from Gadag said, "When we went to the market to sell jowar bags, we were offered Rs 2,200 per quintal. The price range is similar in Ballari, Bengaluru and Koppal markets. Economically sound farmers have stored their jowar. But, small farmers are forced to sell suffering devastating losses. Drought has affected many farmers in Karnataka. Gadag farmers suffered losses in both Kharif and Rabi crops."

An official from Agriculture department of Gadag said, "Farmers can visit their nearest agriculture department to get the best quality crops which can secure better prices in the market. Drought situations are inevitable, but we will help the farmers if they visit us before sowing seeds."

BRS, BJP activists clash over MLA in Warangal

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE
@ Hyderabad

DRAMATIC scenes were witnessed on the roads of the erstwhile Warangal district after BRS and BJP workers clashed over former Wardhannapet MLA Aroori Ramesh's reported decision to join the saffron party. With both sides trying to take possession of the former MLA, Ramesh's shirt was torn.

The seeds for this tussle were planted on March 12, when Ramesh reportedly met Union Home Minister Amit Shah in Hyderabad and expressed his willingness to join the BJP. Shah reportedly assured him the Warangal Lok Sabha ticket.

On Wednesday, the former MLA called a press conference at his residence in Warangal to announce his decision to join the BJP. He reportedly prepared a resignation letter to be sent to the BRS after the press conference. After getting information about his press conference, former minister and MLC Basavaraj Saraiah, former minister Errabelli Dayakar Rao and other BRS leaders reached Ramesh's residence and convinced him to stay put in the BRS. They also arranged a phone call with former minister T Harish Rao. Over the phone, Harish convinced Ramesh to continue in the BRS and invited him to Hyderabad to meet party supremo K Chandrasekhar Rao.

Meanwhile, BJP workers got a whiff of the developments and reached Ramesh's residence along with BJP Warangal unit president Ravi Kumar and Hanamkonda unit president Rao Padma, where they were accosted by BRS activists.

However, by this time, Ramesh had started for Hyderabad to meet KCR. Finding Ramesh gone, the BJP leaders alleged that BRS leaders kidnapped him. Meanwhile, the BRS team, with Ramesh, reached Pembarthi village of Jangaon district where BJP activists, led by the party's district president Arutla Dashamanth Reddy stopped their vehicles. The BJP workers pulled out Ramesh from the car and a clash ensued. In the melee, Ramesh's shirt was torn.

The BRS team managed to push away the BJP activist and proceed on its journey to Hyderabad where Ramesh attended the meeting held by KCR to finalise the BRS candidate for Warangal.

THE Karnataka School Examination and Assessment Board (KSEAB) clarified that a circular is doing rounds on the internet and in student groups that the department has decided to award grace marks to students who appeared for the II Pre-University College (PUC) board examination for Physics on March 7, as the Multiple Choice Questions (MCQs) were found to be ambiguous and difficult by the students. The fake and misleading circular dated March 10 read, "The board decided to award grace marks to all students who attempted non-blueprint MCQs in Part A of the paper. Students who skipped the questions will not be given any grace marks." Speaking to TNIE, Gopalkrishna HN, in-charge and Director of PUC exams made it clear that the circular was fake and not issued by the Board. "We have heard that the circular notes that the department will be awarding grace marks. But we have not taken any decision as of yet. All the questions that appeared in the paper were part of the NCERT textbooks. I want to emphasise that the circular is not the official version of KSEAB," he stated.

INDIAN EXPRESS IS NOT AN INDUSTRY. IT IS A MISSION.

AVOID POLARISATION, COOPERATION AMONG PEOPLE A NECESSITY

IT is not uncommon for Indians from the northern parts of the country to look at the politics of Tamil Nadu with a degree of bafflement. How are so many Hindus—TN is a Hindu-majority state, after all—willing to vote for a party like the DMK, with a tradition of rationalism, which celebrates a leader like Periyar, a staunch critic of Hinduism? One answer is that the central faultline in Tamil society is caste rather than religion. The Dravidian movement attacked superstition and caste oppression; as a political party, the policies it developed—including reservation—benefited Hindus. There has also been a long tradition in Tamil literature, history and politics of questioning and challenging religion. In this context, criticism of sanatan dharma is viewed less as criticism of Hinduism in TN and more of beliefs seen as sanctifying caste oppression. However, this is not how these views are understood in other parts of the country.

The BJP leveraged this against the Congress and the INDIA bloc, of which the DMK is a key member. The tactic arguably paid dividends in the assembly polls to five states late last year. Last week, remarks made by DMK MP A Raja at a public meeting caused a new furore. Raja had referred to Bilkis Bano case and alleged the perpetrators had raised slogans praising Ram during the attack and the 'Bharat Mata ki jai' slogan in greeting the early release of the convicts. "If this is what these slogans mean, then I don't want them," he said. "If this makes me an enemy of Ram, so be it." Ravi Shankar Prasad of the BJP asked the Congress what it made of these remarks, which he deemed anti-Hindu. Many in the INDIA bloc, who were unhappy at the sanatan controversy, are unlikely to back the DMK on Raja's remarks.

Amid a parliamentary election campaign, leaders of the DMK, which has worked on building a national coalition, must be more circumspect of the impact of their rhetoric beyond TN's borders. After all, as disparities between the northern and southern parts of the country in terms of development and quality of life widen, polarisation on cultural grounds too will only vitiate the atmosphere and foster hostility at a time when interdependence is a reality and cooperation a necessity.

DIVERSIFY TIGER GENE POOLS FOR BETTER CARE

ON Wednesday, the Union Minister for Forest, Environment and Climate Change, Bhupender Yadav, broke the news of three new cubs camera-trapped in Sariska Tiger Reserve. For a habitat that had once witnessed a complete wipe-out of the big cats, it indeed is a matter of cheer that the tiger repopulation is on track to grow. But there is a flip side to it, too. As recent genetic research would vouch, Rajasthan also bears the highest inbred tiger population in the entire country and there have been frequent calls for supplementation plans to add to the gene pool in the north-western state's reserve.

This news must be read with an interesting-yet-bizarre tiger story that originated from Odisha, where the state's lone tiger habitat, Similipal, reported a jump in their population. The state government estimated the presence of 27 felines in the habitat, but 13 of them were found to be pseudomelanistic. That it was the only such population in the world is matter for a bigger debate. Should it be celebrated? No, caution should be the first step. A highly-inbred population is vulnerable to collapse in the absence of genetic diversity. The Odisha government was quick to announce a plan for reintroduction by bringing in tigers from other states.

India's tiger conservation is a remarkable story. From just 268 in 1973, when Project Tiger was launched, the headcount of the majestic predator increased to 3,682 in 2022. The 24 percent jump since 2018 speaks volumes of the steadfast approach in preservation. However, the effects of uneven growth, clustering of populations caused by fragmented habitats, increased anthropogenic pressure as well as linear infrastructure must not be lost on the government. Genetic study has shown that Indian tigers are diverse, but there are populations in Central India that have reported high levels of structuring, pointing at reasons induced by growing human activities. Also, tiger populations from the North-East and southern Western Ghats warrant increasing conservation priorities. The all-India report, too, had flagged these concerns. Increased mining activities in Jharkhand, Odisha and Chhattisgarh must be contained. While there is an immediate requirement for enhanced protection, as the electrocution of a tiger in Kanha would suggest, the focus must be on further research to enrich the gene pool in the weaker tiger populations of the country.

QUICK TAKE

SCHOOL BREAKFASTS WELCOME

THE kids, parents and teachers like it. Tamil Nadu's pioneering breakfast scheme, introduced in government primary schools in 2022, is a hit with all stakeholders. A state planning commission study has now confirmed anecdotal evidence on the feedback. The success spurred Telangana last year to introduce a breakfast scheme that's planned to be extended to all schools up to class 10. In a country where anaemia and stunting rob generations of all-round development, assured nutrition in the morning is a huge boon. What Tamil Nadu did on midday meals, the rest of India did soon after. We hope the country will follow the state's lead on the breakfast scheme too.

Biden and Trump have had smooth sailing so far in the US presidential race. But two small bumps on the way show the road is not without challenges

LESSONS FOR THE BIG FIGHT FROM TWO SMALL UPSETS

K P NAYAR
Strategic analyst

SOURAV ROY

US President Joe Biden tasted defeat for the first time on March 5 in his bid for re-election as president of the US. The incumbent president's defeat on 'Super Tuesday' at the hands of a hitherto unknown employee of a technology company in Baltimore on the US east coast was bad enough. An unkinder cut was that more than half the voters who took part in the Democratic party's caucus in American Samoa endorsed winner Jason Palmer's clarion call that the US needs a president "who is more of the 21st century than Joe Biden". Biden is already the oldest occupant of the White House. Biden's advanced age of 81 has been an albatross around his neck ever since he decided to seek re-election.

American Samoa is a picture postcard US 'territory' in the Pacific with only about 50,000 residents. Following the caucus results, the territory will send six delegates to the Democratic National Convention in Chicago in August, which will choose the party's presidential candidate for the November election. Palmer, who secured 56 percent votes at the caucus will have three delegates at the convention. Biden, who got 44 percent, will also have three delegates from American Samoa. Never mind their small size and population, no one can miss the colourful and noisy delegations at party conventions from territories like American Samoa and Virgin Islands. Or for that matter, from Hawaii, which by contrast is a full-fledged state. These delegates sing and dance at convention venues amplifying their Polynesian, West African or Hispanic cultures and traditions. Unfortunately, political participation by US territories ends with caucuses and party conventions: territories have no representation in the electoral college which certifies the election of a new president. Only states have that privilege.

On Super Tuesday, so called because 15 American states hold their primaries or caucuses on that day, Republican Donald Trump also suffered a significant defeat in the only state since this year's presidential election cycle got off the ground. His last opponent for the Republican nomination, Indian-American Nimarata 'Nikki' Randhawa Haley, won the party primary in the state of Vermont in the New England region of the US. Haley's only other win before suspending her campaign was in the District of Columbia, which includes the national capital, Washington. But it is not a state, only a 'district', somewhat similar to a Union territory in India.

The defeats that caucus-goers and primary voters handed out to front-runners Biden and Trump should not be understated for their significance. They are straws in the wind for November, and hence, a lengthy extrapolation in this column.

Vermont is perhaps the most liberal state in the US. In many ways, it is where the 'American dream', lives on even as the classic, once-exquisite, dream has turned sour in much of the continental US. It is, for example, only one of the two states, where common areas like waterfronts, promenades and beaches are state-mandated public trusts for the benefit of all Vermonters. They cannot be usurped by real estate developers unlike in much of America. New England currently offers a beacon of hope to move away from the two-party system, which has deteriorated into tightly-controlled politics that is not very different from one-party rule and offers little by way of pluralism. Vermont's Bernie Sanders is one of three US Senators who are 'independent'". Vermont's Republican Governor Phil Scott is one of the Grand Old Party's (GOP) regional leaders who is still standing even though he has not jumped onto the Trump bandwagon. Support of Scott and several Republican state legislators made Haley's win in Vermont possible.

Before Vermont, in New Hampshire, Haley lost to Trump, but with a respectable show of strength among primary voters. It is a state where Democrats are not allowed to vote in the Republican primary, unlike some other states . However, voters who are registered as independents can take part. Forty-four percent of voters in New Hampshire's Republican primary identified themselves as independents and nearly 60 percent of them voted for Haley. About the same percentage of graduate voters favoured Haley. A majority of households that earned $1,00,000 or more annually voted for Haley, while an overwhelming number who earned half that figure or less voted for Trump en masse. A swing state in recent ground-level politics, New Hampshire's voting trends are indicative of the outcome of a rematch between Trump and Biden in November.

The voting trends cited above make it difficult at the national level for Trump to defeat Biden in the presidential vote. While Trump's supporters remain highly motivated, the Republican campaign appears unable to make inroads among independents, undecided voters and conservative Democrats, who will together decide the outcome in November. Trump may also fail to enlist the support of 'Log Cabin Republicans' who support lesbian, gay, bisexual and transgender rights and such policies. The group did not endorse Trump in the 2016 election, when he first embraced the GOP. The outcomes in most states are already predictable. States with big representations in the electoral college such as California and New York will remain Democrat while Texas will decisively vote for a Republican president. It is the swing states which will decide the next occupant of the White House. Since both parties have presumptive candidates unusually early this time , primaries in the remaining states will be a formality. New Hampshire is one of the few states whose primary outcome can be analysed to make predictions.

Abortion was cited by New Hampshire residents as among the four issues that mattered to them the most in choosing the next president. Trump got merely 26 percent support among those for whom abortion was a touchstone in voting. That remains a big plus for Biden. His apple cart may, however, be upset by an emerging election issue. The president's support for Israel. His campaign is trying to mollify traditional Democrat vote banks which have turned against Biden over Israeli bombardment of Gaza. If the peace efforts fail, states like Michigan and Minnesota may go against Biden and pave the way for Trump's re-election.

GLOBAL WATER CRISES NEED RADICAL RETHINK

C P RAJENDRAN
Adjunct Professor, National Institute of Advanced Studies, Bengaluru

A water crisis is brewing in the agriculture sector worldwide, resulting from its over-use and climate change—and India is no exception. Farmers around the world are on an agitation path. In Europe, they raise issues such as falling prices, rising costs, heavy regulation, domineering retailers, debt and cheap imports. Climate change is also a matter of contention. While extreme events such as floods and droughts have become a huge burden for farmers, they also protest the environmental regulations put forth by the European Union seeking to ameliorate the impact of climate change.

The Indian farmers raise demands such as minimum support price, debt waiver and scrapping of the Electricity Amendment Bill 2020. Their concern for other marginalised communities is reflected in their demand for protection for land, forests and water sources belonging to tribal communities. That said, equally important is the rapidly depleting groundwater reserves across India that will have a deleterious impact on overall agricultural productivity, which finds no mention in their demands.

Take the case of Punjab—a key state for agricultural productivity. Out of the state's 138 water blocks, more than 100 have already reached a critical stage for over-exploitation—some blocks exceed groundwater extraction by 200 percent, a few even over 400 percent. Since the Green Revolution in the 1960s, groundwater has played a vital role in irrigating water-hungry crops such as rice to feed the country's growing population. But this was conditional on the overuse of fertilisers and over-dependence on groundwater. Reduced availability in India due to groundwater depletion and climate change could threaten the livelihoods of more than a third of the country's 1.4 billion people.

Groundwater meets about half of the world's drinking water needs, 40 percent of irrigation, and the rest is used by the industry. One of the important functions of groundwater is to maintain the base flow of streams. Globally, many aquifers are being impacted, including India's river basin aquifers in Rajasthan, Gujarat, Punjab, Haryana and Delhi. Studies suggest that excessive groundwater depletion has led to salinisation and land subsidence. India extracts 75 billion cubic meters of groundwater annually, approximately a third of the total groundwater mined globally.

Over the past three decades, India has been grappling with rapid depletion of groundwater. It is estimated that groundwater use in India has increased from 10-20 cubic km to 240-260 cubic km in the last 50 years. Matthew Rodell, a researcher from the Hydrological Sciences Laboratory in NASA's Goddard Space Flight Center, estimates that groundwater in northern India is being depleted at the rate of 19.2 gigatons per year. A recent study based on satellite observations reveals that parts of the north-western states including Rajasthan, Haryana and Punjab are sinking at the rate of 1 cm per year, due to groundwater withdrawal.

PTI

Climate change and over-use of groundwater have led to water crises around the world. While farmers are demanding relief on costs and regulations, they are not yet focused on climate effects. A water policy needs to take in the views of all stakeholders

A University of Michigan-led study finds if the current trend of usage continues, the rate of depletion could triple in India by 2080. At the macro level, experts have identified the rise in population, an expanding middle class and climate change as the major drivers of water shortage. At the micro-level, water pollution, theft, leakages, lack of management exacerbate the problem. In a performance audit in 2015-16, 14 states scored below 50 percent on water management. These 'low performers' are concentrated across the populous agricultural belts of north and east India, and the north-eastern and Himalayan states.

The contamination of groundwater has also reached alarming levels in many parts. India ranks 120th among 122 countries on a global water quality index and composite water management index 2018. Parts of Odisha, Bengal, Rajasthan and Gujarat are affected both by geogenic as well as anthropogenic contamination. The situation is expected to worsen with the rural population facing lower productivity and income from their agricultural lands leading to exodus to the cities and overcrowding of urban spaces which are also reeling under sufficient availability of water. The rise in the urban population has added to the strain on the resource base. India happens to lead the world in the projected growth in urban population between 2018 and 2050.

Ground studies also indicate increased salinity and nitrate contaminants in the lower reaches of the rivers. A study of water samples collected from wells in Rajasthan shows widespread contamination of fluoride, nitrate and uranium. The arsenic toxicity river basin in Bengal has become a serious problem. Large-scale pumping transfers the arsenic present in the deeper levels to shallow depths and the pumped water consequently contaminates the soil and accumulates in paddy grains.

Most of Indian megacities lack treatment plants for wastewater treatment. Kolkata, for example, generates about 750 million litres of wastewater and sewage daily. The core area of the city does not have a single sewage treatment plant, with the sewage finally ending up in the East Kolkata Wetlands. The key issue here is not just building such structures, but developing a long-lasting support system including legislation for maintaining them.

The water crisis is spiralling out of control primarily due to poor management, inadequate or unclear laws and corruption. A national water policy should involve a holistic approach to watershed management with a participatory role for local citizens in monitoring the hydrological cycle with the help of hydrologists, engineers and biologists. The policy should include effective aquifer management and facilitating the regulation of usage. Farmers should be taken into confidence in this exercise to help devise plans for efficient usage of water for irrigation. The government has little control over the usage of wastewater and should devise imaginative re-use programmes.

Ref: Odisha kidney disease spurt needs close look (March 13). The prevalence of kidney disease in rural areas of Odisha may be the result of widespread use of medicines, including antibiotics. Many people, especially daily-wage workers suffering from fever or cold, often take medicines without consulting a doctor. Baseless allegations

Ref: What the nation owes its first prime minister (March 13). The accusation against Jawaharlal Nehru that he founded a dynasty is totally baseless. Nehru's contributions

Unfortunately, today falsehoods are propagated by some to fool the people. My concern is that since this article is in English, a majority of Indians won't be able to read or understand it. I wish similar articles are written in regional languages so that people can understand the contributions made by great leaders like Jawaharlal Nehru.

The article on Nehru made for a very interesting and insightful read. The present government is trying to blame Nehru for anything and everything. People must understand that it was Nehru who laid the foundation for India to develop to where it is today. Our youngsters must read articles like this to get a better picture of our country's political history.

False narrative

Thank you for the excellent article about Jawaharlal Nehru's contributions. It is deplorable that his legacy is being denigrated by the present dispensation, which is peddling a narrative that India's development began only 10 years ago.

Cong's Nari Nyay promises 50% quota in govt jobs

Rahul says 'very soon you will find half of govt offices filled with women'

PREETHA NAIR @ New Delhi

THE Congress on Wednesday announced five 'Nari Nyay' guarantees, including ₹1 lakh annually for the poor women and 50 per cent reservation in government jobs if the party is voted to power in the upcoming Lok Sabha polls.

Congress leader Rahul Gandhi announced the guarantees while addressing a women's rally in Maharashtra's Dhule district as part of his ongoing 'Bharat Jodo Nyay Yatra'.

The former Congress president said that under the first guarantee called 'Mahalakshmi' guarantee, ₹1 lakh per annum direct cash transfer will be made to one woman from each of the poorest families.

The second guarantee, 'Aadhi Aabadi, Poora Haq', under which 50 per cent of jobs in the Central government will be reserved for women. "Very soon you will find half of the government offices filled with women," said Gandhi.

Under the third guarantee 'Shakti ka Samman', the Central government's contribution towards the monthly pay of ASHA, Anganwadi, and mid-day meal workers will be doubled. "This will help in substantially increasing the monthly remuneration of female workers," he added.

The fourth guarantee, 'Adhikar Maitri', will provide for appointment of a nodal officer to educate women about their rights and help in the fight for their cases, he said.

The fifth guarantee, 'Savitri Bai Phule Hostels', will provide hostels for working women in each and every district headquarters across the country with proper security and food.

Gandhi also claimed that women had been fooled by the Centre over reservation in the Lok Sabha and state assemblies as the bill pertaining to it has been passed by Parliament, but its implementation will happen after 10 years.

"Our government will immediately implement women's reservation," he said. Before Gandhi's speech, Congress president Mallikarjun Kharge in a video statement said the 'Mahalaxmi' guarantee envisages depositing ₹1 lakh directly in the banks of poor women annually. The Congress' guarantees are set in stone and not a "jumla", Kharge asserted.

Later, addressing a convention of the beneficiaries of five guarantees of Kalaburagi district in Karnataka, Kharge said 'Nari Nyaya Guarantee' includes providing training to the selected women by giving ₹8500 per month.

Financial assistance of ₹1 lakh per annum will be given to the female member who has undergone training. Kharge hailed the Karnataka government for fulfilling the promise of five guarantees.

The 5 guarantees

- ₹1 lakh per annum direct cash transfer to one woman from each of the poorest families
- 50% of Central government jobs to be reserved for women
- Centre's contribution to monthly pay of ASHA, Anganwadi, and mid-day meal workers to be doubled
- Nodal officer to educate women of rights and help fight their cases
- Hostels for working women in every district headquarters with food and security

Chirag likely to get key seats in Bihar amid family feud

RAJESH KUMAR THAKUR @ New Delhi

SPECULATION has been mounting since Chirag Paswan's meeting with BJP Chief JP Nadda in Delhi on Wednesday. It is believed that Chirag Paswan, the Lok Janshakti Party (Ram Vilas) president, might secure 4 to 5 Lok Sabha seats out of 40 in Bihar as part of the NDA. Meanwhile, his estranged uncle and Union Minister Pashupati Paras, who currently leads the National LJP (a faction derived from the LJP), may receive one Lok Sabha seat and a gubernatorial position.

No official comment has been made by Paras at the time of reporting, but sources indicate he has convened a meeting with his party leaders following Chirag's statement after his meeting with Nadda. Chirag Paswan clarified in a post on 'X' that the poll pact regarding seat-sharing with the BJP in the NDA has been finalised. He also stated that his party has agreed on a seat-sharing formula with the BJP for the Lok Sabha polls, with further details to be systematically announced as part of the alliance strategy. Sources within LJP (RV) suggest that the BJP may contest 17-18 seats, JDU 14, with the remainder allocated to other allies.

Chirag Paswan, whose father Ram Vilas Paswan won the Hajipur LS seat eight times, is insistent on nominating his party's candidate for this seat. "As a member of the NDA, in today's meeting with the BJP national president, Hon'ble JP Nadda ji, we have jointly finalised the seat-sharing arrangement in Bihar for the upcoming Lok Sabha polls. Details will be announced in due course," wrote Chirag Paswan, following his meeting with Nadda.

The helpline number will be open to answer queries from 8 am to 8 pm.

"The helpline number to assist applicants of Indian citizenship under CAA-2019 is being started soon. Applicants can make free calls from anywhere in India and get info related to CAA-2019. Helpline will be available from 8 am to 8 pm," said an MHA spokesperson.

On March 11, the MHA had notified the rules for implementation of the CAA.

With this, the law has paved for Hindu, Sikh, Jain, Buddhist, Christian and Parsi refugees, who came to India before December 31, 2014, from Afghanistan, Bangladesh and Pakistan to acquire Indian citizenship without having a valid passport of these countries or an Indian visa.

The Citizenship (Amendment) Bill 2019 was passed in Parliament in December 2019.

The Ministry of Home Affairs (MHA) on Tuesday launched a portal for people eligible to apply for Indian citizenship under the newly implemented law.

"Now, the persons persecuted from Afghanistan, Pakistan and Bangladesh on religious grounds of six minority communities - Hindus, Sikhs, Buddhists, Jains, Parsis and Christians-- can apply for grant of Indian citizenship on portal https://indiancitizenshiponline.nic.in," Union Home Minister Amit Shah posted on X.

Portal launched

The Union home ministry on Tuesday launched a portal — https://indiancitizenshiponline.nic.in — for people eligible to apply for Indian citizenship under the Citizenship Amendment Act 2019. The ministry on Wednesday said it will soon lauch a toll-free helpline number, which will be open to answer queries from 8 am to 8 pm.

Not proper to talk about Nijjar case as probe on: New Zealand deputy PM

YESHI SELI @ New Delhi

TILL the investigation on the killing of Hardeep Singh Nijjar is concluded, it would not be prudent to comment, Deputy Prime Minister of New Zealand Winston Peters said during his visit to New Delhi.

He emphasised the importance of withholding comments until the investigation is complete. "Indians are proficient in understanding their laws. As a lawyer myself, I reiterate that it's not prudent to comment until the investigation is concluded. The rule of law will prevail," he added.

New Zealand is part of the Five Eyes alliance, which also includes the US, UK, Canada, and Australia. Most members of this alliance commented after Canadian Prime Minister Justin Trudeau alleged India's involvement in Nijjar's killing in British Columbia in June 2023. Trudeau's remarks had led to a diplomatic stand-off between India and Canada, which took months to resolve.

During his visit, Peters met with India's External Affairs Minister S Jaishankar, and discussed enhancing bilateral ties in various sectors, including trade and connectivity.

The final framework of the air services agreement between India and New Zealand was signed during his visit. This agreement is expected to improve connectivity between the two countries once airlines like Air India and Air New Zealand expand their fleets, potentially starting direct flights within the next one to two years.

Before his visit to Delhi, Peters visited Gujarat, where he met Chief Minister Bhupendra Patel. They also toured the Gift City and were impressed by the sustainability initiatives implemented there.

"New Zealand and India, both fellow democracies, aspire to shape an Indo-Pacific region characterised by respect for the Rule of Law, freedom of navigation, and peaceful dispute resolution. Working alongside like-minded partners such as Australia and Japan, these shared principles form the cornerstone of New Zealand's endeavour for a strengthened bilateral relationship with India and broader cooperation across the Indo-Pacific region, including Pacific Island countries," he added.

The Indian diaspora in New Zealand numbers 300,000 and India stands as New Zealand's second-largest source of international students and its largest source of skilled migrants.

Ahead of Bhutan PM's India visit, Delhi nod to energy ties with Thimpu

YESHI SELI @ New Delhi

BHUTAN Prime Minister Dasho Tshering Tobgay will embark on his first official visit abroad to India since he was elected to office in January 2024. Tobgay will be in India from March 14 to 18 at the invitation of Prime Minister Narendra Modi.

"PM Tobgay will hold bilateral talks with PM Modi and also meet President Draupadi Murmu. External Affairs Minister S Jaishankar and other dignitaries will also call on him. Tobgay will also visit Mumbai," according to the Ministry of External Affairs.

The delegation that will accompany Tobgay will include the Bhutan's minister of foreign affairs and external trade, minister of energy and natural resources, minister for industry, commerce and employment, and senior officials from the Bhutan government.

"India and Bhutan enjoy exemplary ties of friendship and cooperation, based on trust, goodwill and mutual understanding at all levels. The visit of the Prime Minister of Bhutan will provide an opportunity to the two sides to review the progress in our unique partnership and to discuss ways and means to expand the enduring ties of friendship and cooperation between India and Bhutan," the MEA added.

In a related development, the Union cabinet chaired by Modi approved the signing of an MoU between India and Bhutan on extending cooperation in the field of energy efficiency. Another agreement between the Bhutan Food and Drug Authority and the Food Safety and Standards Authority of India was also approved.

Opportunity to review progress in partnership

The MEA said Tobgay's visit will provide an opportunity to the two neighbouring countries to review the progress in their "unique partnership" and discuss ways to expand the "enduring" ties of friendship and cooperation between them.

Proud moment: Cook's daughter to pursue law in US

SUCHITRA KALYAN MOHANTY @ New Delhi

TWENTY-six-year-old Pragya, the daughter of a Supreme Court cook, on Wednesday, received many accolades not only from the legal fraternity but also from the head of the Institution of the top court of India, the Chief Justice of India Dhananjaya Yeshwant Chandrachud, who complimented her for securing a US Scholarship to study Masters in Law.

"I am incredibly excited as I want to study for a Master in Law in the US. Also, the CJI felicitating me has left me completely overwhelmed. It will remain my most cherished moment and continue to encourage me forever. This is just the beginning of my journey. I have miles to go to accomplish my goal. I don't know where my destination lies," Pragya, a Sunapala native from Odisha, told this newspaper.

Impressed by the feat of Pragya, the CJI felicitated her earlier in the day. Joining the celebrations were several other senior Supreme Court judges who lauded her achievements.

"I am a hard-core believer in hard work. There is no shortcut to success. If one slogs and puts his heart and soul into something, nothing can stop that person from achieving their goal. It opens up several avenues and helps get the needed resources quickly. No matter what, if a student makes an effort, they will never fail to get the resources," the CJI said after meeting Pragya.

CJI Chandrachud, while felicitating Pragya, also honoured her mother and her father, Ajay Kumar Samal, who has been working as a cook in the Court for several years. "It is a matter of pride for all of us. The achievement of Pragya is enormous. Let us congratulate her," the CJI said.

Pragya passed a Bachelor in Law (LLB) from Amity University. Terming Pragya's achievement the "biggest" not only for the family but for all, the CJI said that it is society's responsibility to help children achieve their aims.

"It is not just the responsibility of the government but also the citizens to ensure that every child, who wants to do higher studies or excel in sports, achieve their dreams," Chandrachud said.

The Chief Justice then handed her a book signed by all the Supreme Court judges.

After the felicitation, Pragya said the privilege immensely touched her and that was indeed an honour.

Farmers peeved as agri-bonus promise in Raj, MP not kept

JITENDRA CHOUBEY @ New Delhi

THE issue of agriculture bonuses is set to become a significant talking point during the forthcoming general elections, with resentment brewing among farmers following the BJP's retraction of its initial commitment to provide bonus amounts in addition to the procurement of wheat and rice at the Minimum Support Price (MSP).

The newly elected BJP governments in Madhya Pradesh and Rajasthan have opted to offer a mere ₹125 per quintal bonus to wheat farmers, significantly less than the ₹425 per quintal promised above the MSP. During the assembly elections in October 2023, the Central government campaigned with a promise of purchasing wheat at ₹2,700 per quintal from farmers in these states under 'Modi ki guarantee', further pledging ₹3,100 per quintal.

A growing sense of dissatisfaction among farmers is fuelling the current protests, stemming from the party's failure to fulfil its promise. "Farmers have voiced their discontent regarding the unfulfilled promises," said Ram Inania, a farmer leader from Harda district in Madhya Pradesh.

"They have conveyed their grievances through memorandums to local authorities across various districts, even as they remain preoccupied with the wheat harvest," said Inania, representing Aam Kisan Union.

On March 11, Madhya Pradesh Chief Minister Mohan Yadav declared a bonus of ₹125 per quintal on wheat purchases, totalling an expenditure of about ₹3,850 crore for the year. With the Centre setting MSP for wheat at ₹2,275 per quintal for the current rabi season, farmers in Madhya Pradesh and Rajasthan will now receive ₹2,400 per quintal. This decision is expected to have a ripple effect in other wheat-producing states like Uttar Pradesh, Haryana and Punjab, where farmers' protests are notably intense.

Despite whip, 3 among 10 JJP MLAs were present in House complex; Later, they left Assembly

Day after named CM, Saini wins trust vote

HARPREET BAJWA @Chandigarh

A day after Nayab Singh Saini was sworn in as the Haryana Chief Minister, the BJP government led by him won the trust vote in the assembly on Wednesday by voice vote.

Former chief minister Manohar Lal Khattar, whom Saini replaced, announced that he was resigning as the MLA from Karnal, saying the chief minister will look after the constituency, in an indication that the BJP might field Saini from that seat. The BJP named Khattar as the candidate for the Karnal Lok Sabha seat.

After a two-hour discussion in the assembly, the confidence motion was passed with voice vote. The Jannayak Janata Party (JJP), the BJP's former ally, had issued a whip, asking its 10 legislators to remain absent from the House during the trust vote.

However, when the trust vote was taken up, the breakaway JJP faction MLAs were seen on the assembly premises. Devinder Babli, Ishwar Singh and Ram Kumar Gautam of the JJP defied the party whip and came to the House.

Later, they left the House when the trust vote motion was taken up.

In his address, Saini said, "Under the leadership of Khattar, the state has seen all-round development in nine and a half years, and the public has received benefits. Upholding the same ideology, the present government will work hard to serve the residents of the state."

Calling himself a "small worker" of the BJP, Saini said he comes from an ordinary family and there is no one in his family in politics.

"Discharging various responsibilities given by the BJP, I am here today as the leader of the House after being the state president, which is only possible in the BJP," he said.

"Khattar has made improvements in the administration working in mission mode, due to which the beneficiaries are receiving the benefits of government schemes," Saini said.

JJP holds rally in Hisar

Jannayak Janta Party chief Ajay Singh Chautala said that his party worked with full honesty to fulfil the 'gathbandhan dharma' over the last four and half years of the alliance and his party was never power hungry. His statement came a day after JJP's alliance with the BJP ended.

Khattar's removal a well-planned move to bring in fresh face

HARPREET BAJWA @ Chandigarh

REPLACEMENT of Manohar Lal Khattar was on expected lines as the BJP wanted to bring in a fresh face in the upcoming Lok Sabha polls and assembly elections due later this year, according to party sources.

The ground for the switch-over had silently been laid to ward off anti-incumbency against Khattar, who had been in the saddle since 2014. The formula replicated in Haryana had been earlier tried and tested by the BJP in other states. Former chief minister Khattar has been given a ticket from Karnal for the upcoming elections.

The decision to change Khattar was in line with the party's strategy of introducing fresh faces before going to polls and not repeating the chief minister after two terms. "The idea behind replacements is an infusion of fresh blood and creating a younger line of leadership. This approach explains the smoothness of chief ministerial transitions that otherwise look hard to achieve," said a party leader.

A senior leader said though the party is confident of winning all the 10 Lok Sabha seats in the state, it is a little doubtful about the assembly polls slated to be held in October this year as the farmers' protest and wrestler agitation might dent its prospects.

A leading political analyst, Prof Ashutosh Kumar, pointed out: "To fight the anti-incumbency factor, this is a standard strategy adopted by most parties, especially the BJP under the Modi and Shah dispensation." "Khattar has been CM for nine-and-a-half years, so changing the face was on the cards. By making Saini, an OBC leader, the BJP has clinched 8 per cent votes," he said.

Maha deal: BJP to contest 30 seats, Shinde 11, Ajit 7

SUDHIR SURYAWANSHI @ Mumbai

THE BJP on Wednesday announced its list of 20 candidates out of the 48 Lok Sabha seats in Maharashtra, bringing an end to speculation over rift in the Mahayuti alliance.

In all, the BJP will contest in 30 seats, leaving 11 for Eknath Shinde-led Shiv Sena and seven for Ajit Pawar's NCP, according to highly-placed sources.

The remaining seat distribution is likely to be declared either late on Thursday evening or Friday.

The BJP's insistence on fielding candidates from 32 seats was disturbing the alliance partners' arithmetic. Therefore, the seat-sharing formula had to be reworked multiple times, sources in the NDA said.

"BJP's alliance partners NCP (AP) will get seven seats — four for its sitting MPs and three additional seats in Gadchiroli, Osmanabad and Parbhani. Eknath Shinde has 13 sitting MPs, but Shiv Sena's two sitting lawmakers will be denied tickets where the BJP will contest. The two seats of the Shiv Sena (Shinde) that the BJP is eyeing are South Mumbai, where state assembly speaker Rahul Narvekar is likely to be fielded, and the Thane or Kalyan Lok Sabha seat," said sources, requesting anonymity.

He further added that the BJP is hopeful of getting Kalyan, where it has strong chances to win, but Eknath Shinde is not in favour of denying ticket to his son and sitting Shiv Sena MP Shreekant Shinde.

"Chances are Thane may be given to BJP where former minister Ganesh Naik's name has been discussed as BJP candidate. The discussion is on and the final decision will be taken soon," he added.

A senior NCP leader said that after meeting with Union Home Minister Amit Shah in New Delhi, they had planned another meeting in the national capital for fine-tuning the seat sharing, but for some reasons, the scheduled visits got cancelled.

"We are in touch with the state BJP leadership, and with the party's top leadership over the phone. Most of the differences are ironed out and by Thursday evening or Friday, the seat-sharing formula of Mahayuti in Maharashtra will be declared," he added.

Dushyant Chautala takes dig at former BJP leader

Without naming the former Union Minister and senior BJP leader Birender Singh, former Haryana Deputy CM and senior JJP leader Dushyant Chautala took a dig at him during his rally in Hisar. He remarked that Singh should have waited for two days, as for the past year, he had been predicting the breakup of the alliance between the BJP and JJP, which happened. Chautala mentioned that Singh even made his son resign from the party. While addressing the gathering, Dushyant noted that he had intended to leave, but PM Narendra Modi's praise for former CM Manohar Lal Khattar, made him change his plans.

Upset Anil Vij skips Saini's oath ceremony

Firebrand senior leader and six-time Ambala Cantonment MLA Anil Vij, who previously served as the state home and health minister in the Khattar cabinet, left the party meeting and subsequently skipped the oath-taking ceremony of the new Chief Minister Nayab Singh Saini. He once again expressed his discontent with the party's functioning. Driving down to Ambala from Chandigarh, Vij left his official vehicle behind and went straight home, where he spent time with his younger brother's granddaughter. He returned to the assembly in Chandigarh on Wednesday.

Mann urges public support for AAP

Punjab Chief Minister Bhagwant Mann, while addressing the Sarkar Vyapar Milni program in Ludhiana, recently appealed to the public to vote for AAP to help the party develop its bench strength. As a keen follower of cricket, Mann used the example of the West Indies cricket team to illustrate the importance of team strength. He listed the names of a few top cricketers from the West Indies, and highlighted how the team used to intimidate opponents. Mann said that many players would withdraw from matches against the West Indies due to fear. However, he said that the team's failure to work on their bench strength resulted in a decline after eight players retired.

Cong MLA: ED raid for turning down BJP offer

MUKESH RANJAN @ Ranchi

AS the searches conducted by the ED continue at 17 locations of Congress MLA Amba Prasad on the second consecutive day, she has alleged that she is being harassed by the central investigation agency for her denial to the offer to contest from Hazaribagh on BJP ticket.

"I ignored to contest from Hazaribagh for Chatra…therefore they have been creating pressure on me from a long time. Senior leaders of BJP and RSS were wanted me to contest the election, but I continuously ignored it...We are very strong from Hazaribagh and have been winning from Barkagaon for the third consecutive time and Congress has a very strong face in this area," she said.

According to Prasad, she is supposed to be the strongest candidate from Hazaribagh for 2024-Lok Sabha polls. Efforts are being made to target and eliminate her and her family from the contest.

The Congress MLA alleged that the ED officials have taken away her mobile phones and the file, which consisted of questions she raised during the Assembly sessions.

PM launches ₹1.25L cr projects, says India will become semiconductor hub

DILIP SINGH KSHATRIYA/ PRASANTA MAZUMDAR @ Ahmedabad/Guwahati

PRIME Minister Narendra Modi on Wednesday said India is eager to play a big role in the semiconductor sector and will become a global power in the field soon. "India is already a nuclear, space, and digital powerhouse. In future, we plan to commercialise semiconductor-related goods. India is on track to become a worldwide giant in this area as well," Modi said after virtually laying the foundation for three semiconductor facilities worth ₹1.25 lakh crore – in Dholera and Sanand districts in Gujarat, and Morigaon in Assam.

The PM slammed previous governments for scams and said they did not invest in modern technology and neglected the semiconductor sector even as India's ambition of becoming its hub dates back five decades. "Only a few countries in the world are manufacturing semiconductors today. Corona pandemic has shown us that the world desperately needs a stable and resilient support supply chain. India looks forward to playing a significant role in this," he said.

"India first considered semiconductor manufacturing in the 1960s. However, despite this idea, the governments of the time were unable to capitalise on these chances. Lack of will, failure to put one's resolutions into action, and inability to make major decisions were the main reasons. As a result, India's aim of producing semiconductors went unfulfilled for many years." said the PM.

Attacking the Congress, he said "Those who worked in government during those decades also believed that there was no need to rush; everything will happen when the time came. Governments reasoned that since this is a future requirement, why address it now?"

When the PM laid the foundation for a semiconductor manufacturing unit in Morigaon district, Assam Chief Minister Himanta Biswa Sarma said it was an "epoch-making day".

"Assam being situated in the remotest part of the country, we never thought we will become the pioneer of the semiconductor revolution. This revolution has started in Assam because of Modiji's blessings and his confidence in the North-east," the CM said, addressing a gathering at Jagiroad where the unit will come up.

Gadkari, Goyal, Anurag Thakur in BJP 2nd list

RAJESH KUMAR THAKUR @ New Delhi

THE BJP repeated three Union ministers and fielded one minister for the first time in the Lok Sabha elections, in its second list of candidates for 72 seats in 10 states. Union Minister Piyush Goyal will make his debut from the safest of Lok Sabha seats — North Mumbai.

The party repeated Union ministers Nitin Gadkari from Nagpur, Anurag Thakur from Himachal Pradesh's Hamirpur and Pralhad Joshi from Hubali-Dharwad. Rajya Sabha MP Anil Baluni will enter the fray from Garhwal in Uttarakhand.

As expected, outgoing Haryana chief minister Manohar Lal Khattar got the Karnal LS ticket. Besides, former chief minister of Karnataka B S Bommai has been fielded from Haveri.

Delhi and Karnataka saw the maximum changes in the second list. In Delhi, the party dropped six of its seven sitting MPs while in Karnataka the axe fell on leaders like Anant Hedge and Pratap Simha.

In Delhi, two new candidates — Harsh Malhotra from East Delhi and Yogendra Chandolia from North West Delhi — have been fielded to deflect anti-incumbency. Sources said the dropped MPs would be made prominent players in the assembly elections against AAP candidates because of their deep and strong local influences.

In Karnataka, former chief minister B S Yediyurappa's son B Y Raghavendra will enter the fray from Shimoga while youth wing head Tejasvi Surya has been repeated from Bengaluru South. Yaduveer Krishnadatta Wadiyar, who belongs to the erstwhile Mysore royal family, is the replacement for Pratap Simha in Mysore.

Pankaja Munde from Beed in Maharashtra and Shobha Karandlaje from Bangalore North are among the prominent women faces on the list.

Rope in Hema Malini to get more deposits in post offices: MP minister

ANURAAG SINGH @ Bhopal

IN a move that has attracted attention, Madhya Pradesh Cabinet Minister Kunwar Vijay Shah has recommended the appointment of Bollywood actress and BJP MP Hema Malini as the brand ambassador for the Department of Posts.

This suggestion aims to enhance the visibility and appeal of the post office's investment and savings schemes.

Shah, a prominent tribal figure in the BJP and an eight-time MLA from Harsud (Khandwa), currently serves as the Minister of Tribal Affairs in Dr Mohan Yadav's cabinet.

The proposal was made during the inauguration of a Post Office Passport Service Centre in Khandwa district.

Highlighting the benefits of investing in a five-year fixed deposit scheme offered by post offices, which provides a 7.5% interest rate, Shah emphasized the need for better promotion of these schemes.

He believes that Hema Malini, with her embodiment of rich Indian culture and traditions, would be an ideal representative for these financial services.

Shah praised Hema Malini's unblemished film career and her representation of "Modi ki Guarantee," noting her multiple tenures as a Member of Parliament.

He humorously suggested that with Malini as the brand ambassador, the department could significantly increase its deposits, drawing funds from bank customers to post offices.

By leveraging Malini's popularity and integrity, Shah is confident that the post office can outshine cooperative and nationalized banks, playfully adding that the post office is akin to Prime Minister Modi's "own son," in contrast to the other financial institutions.

This proposal, delivered in Shah's unique style, elicited laughter and intrigue from the audience, marking yet another bold statement from the minister known for his unconventional ideas.

FRIDAY DATE FOR SC HEARING AGAINST EC SEARCH PANEL

SUCHITRA KALYAN MOHANTY @ New Delhi

THE Supreme Court on Wednesday agreed to hear on Friday a batch of petitions filed challenging the Chief Election Commissioner Act, 2023, which had dropped the Chief Justice of India (CJI) from the selection committee to pick the Chief Election Commissioner (CEC) and Election Commissioners (ECs).

The Act was challenged by various petitioners, including the Association for Democratic Reforms (ADR), Congress leader Dr Jaya Thakur and others.

The hearing comes at a time when the government is expected to fill two vacancies of election commissioners soon ahead of the Lok Sabha elections.

The search panel would include the prime minister, a cabinet minister nominated by the PM and Leader of Opposition in Lok Sabha. CJI was excluded from the new law which came into force in January.

Last week, election commissioner Arun Goel put in his papers three years before his tenure was to end. Mystery shrouds his exit as he was in line for promotion as the chief election commissioner after incumbant Rajiv Kumar retires in February next year. Last month, his colleague Anup Chandra Pandey had retired.

Earlier, the court had refused to stay the Election Commissioner Act, 2023, but said it would examine the matter next month. But the petitioners moved the court again following Goel's exit. Senior advocate Prashant Bhushan, appearing for ADR, sought urgent listing and hearing of its petition since fresh appointments were expected shortly. Justice Sanjiv Khanna, who led a three-judge bench, said, "I just got the message from the CJI that it will be listed on Friday."

Mid, small-caps fall most in 2 years

Selling intensifies in 3 sessions since Sebi took step to moderate inflows into these stocks

ARSHAD KHAN @ New Delhi

SHARES of small and mid companies fell sharply on Wednesday over fears that the 'bubble' formed in certain pockets by relentless buying may burst anytime soon.

While the broader market has been under pressure since the capital market regulator Sebi late last month stepped to moderate inflows into small and midcap schemes, the selling has intensified in the past three sessions after Madhabi Puri Buch's, Chairperson, Securities and Exchange Board of India (Sebi), remark that there are pockets of froth in the small and mid-cap space in the equity markets that has the potential to become a bubble and burst, affecting investors.

Nifty Smallcap 100 fell 5.3% on Wednesday, Nifty Midcap 100 dropped 4.4%. For the two indices, this was their biggest single-day fall in nearly two years. The selling was so widespread that only one stock in Smallcap 100 and two in Mid-cap 100 managed to settle in the green. Rvinder Singh Nanda, senior vice-President at Master Capital Services, said when compared to their potential for profit growth, mid and small-cap stocks appear to be the most costly. While there is a possibility of a major double-digit reduction, it is not guaranteed. Corrections have already occurred in these sectors, and if they persist, a more pronounced fall could follow, Nanda added.

Shiju Koothupalakkal, technical research analyst at Prabhudas Lilladher, said investors can stay light and avoid further addition of Mid-cap and Small-cap stocks till there is no clear conviction and confirmation of a revival for the indices. For Mid-cap index, a major revival to breach above 50EMA zone of 47,700 level is necessary to bring about some conviction and thereafter anticipate for further rise, added Koothupalakkal.

The mandated AMFI-SEBI stress test too is weighing on market sentiment. Sebi had directed the Association of Mutual Funds India (AMFI) to ensure that asset management companies (AMCs) prepare risk disclosures for investors regarding mid-small cap schemes and conduct stress tests which will be useful in figuring out if the portfolios are liquid enough to meet a sudden rise in redemptions. Following this, big names in the mutual fund industry have started reducing exposure to midcap and smallcap stocks. Amid this increased scrutiny, raids against Dubai-based trader and alleged Hawala operator Hari Shankar Tibrewala added to a sell-off in small-cap stocks in which he has exposure.

Investors lose ₹13.5 lakh cr as mkts crash on heavy selling

ARSHAD KHAN @ New Delhi

IN a troublesome session for investors in the Indian equity market, investors lost a whopping ₹13.5 lakh crore on Wednesday.

Heavy selling in midcap and smallcap stocks due to expensive valuation concerns had a spillover impact on blue chips. Despite starting the trading session in green after India reported softening inflation on Tuesday, the key benchmark indexes- NSE Nifty50 and BSE Sensex- settled with a steep cut of up to 1.5%.

The 30-share Sensex closed the Wednesday session 906.07 points or 1.23% lower at 72,761.89 while the Nifty 50 closed at 21,997.70 level, down 338 points or 1.51%. The combined market capitalisation of all BSE-listed firms came down to ₹372.1 lakh crore, down from ₹385.6 lakh crore in the previous session, wiping out ₹13.5 lakh crore.

"In contrast to the global uptrend, unfavourable risk-reward balance of mid and small-cap stocks, fuelled by prolonged premium valuations, has aggravated the downfall…Other than the premium valuation no fundamental issue is noticed to drawback the long-term growth image of domestic midcaps," said Vinod Nair, Head of Research, Geojit Financial Services. Pravesh Gour, Senior Technical Analyst at Swastika Investmart, said that other factors contributing to the decline is the increase in US bond yields after US CPI inflation data and selling pressure on index heavyweights like Reliance Industries (RIL) and a few Tata group members.

Among the sectoral indices, only the FMCG pack closed the Wednesday session in red, thanks to a 4% gain in the shares of heavyweight ITC. All other sectoral indices ended with losses with the Media, Metal and Realty pack shedding more than 5% each.

Investors also dumped PSE (public sector enterprises) stocks, which not very long time ago were in high demand, to such an extent that all the 20 constituents of the Nifty PSE index ended lower. The overall market breadth was predominantly red as only 350 stocks closed in green while 3,569 stocks settled with a cut. The biggest laggards in the Nifty50 pack were Power Grid Corporation, Coal India, Adani Enterprises, Adani Ports, NTPC, Tata Steel and ONGC as these stocks fell in the range of 5-7%.

M-cap of BSE-listed firms down at ₹372.1L cr

The 30-share Sensex closed the Wednesday session 906.07 points or 1.23% lower at 72,761.89 while the Nifty 50 closed at 21,997.70 level, down 338 points or 1.51%. Made-in-India chips will make India self-reliant: PM

ENS ECONOMIC BUREAU @ New Delhi

MADE-in-India and designed in India chips will play a major role in taking India towards self-reliance and modernisation, said Prime Minister Narendra Modi on Wednesday.

Modi, speaking at the foundation stone laying event for three semiconductor projects worth about ₹1.25 lakh crore via video conferencing, said only a handful of countries in the world are manufacturing semiconductors in the world. The Prime Minister inaugurated a semiconductor fabrication facility at Dholera in Gujarat, outsourced semiconductor assembly and test (OSAT) facility at Morigaon, Assam, and the OSAT facility at Sanand, Gujarat. "The day is not far when India will become a global power in the manufacture of products for the semiconductor sector," said Modi.

The Prime Minister also mentioned that semiconductor research will benefit the youth the most. Modi also pointed out the huge presence of Indian talent in global chip design and manufacturing.

He said the talent ecosystem of India is completed as the country moves forward in the semiconductor manufacturing sector. He expressed confidence that the projects of today would provide numerous advanced technology jobs for the youth. He said India's semiconductor dreams were first envisioned during the 1960s but the then governments failed to act upon them due to a lack of will and the effort to convert the resolutions into accomplishments.

The Prime Minister also touched upon India's growing position in electronics and hardware manufacturing where PLI schemes have been provided for large-scale electronic and IT hardware manufacturing and electronic clusters created, thereby giving a platform for the growth of the electronic ecosystem.

The Prime Minister informed us that India is the second largest mobile manufacturer in the world today. He said India is moving towards technology advancement apart from technology adoption.

Byju's vs investors: K'taka HC extends stay on investors' resolutions

ENS ECONOMIC BUREAU @ Bengaluru

THE Karnataka High Court on Wednesday extended its interim order till March 28, restraining investors of Byju's not to bring in effect any resolutions passed at the Extraordinary General Meeting (EGM) held last month.

This is a big relief to founder Byju Raveendran as in the EGM called by investors including Prosus and General Atlantic, holders of over 60% of the cap table voted in favour of change in leadership of the company. These investors also filed an oppression and mismanagement suit against Raveendran and management in the National Company Law Tribunal (NCLT) Bengaluru branch.

Edtech firm Byju's had moved the Karnataka High Court last month seeking a stay on the outcome of the EGM called by select investors. The HC in response to a petition filed by Think & Learn Private Limited, the parent company of Byju's, had passed an order stating that any resolutions proposed to be passed on February 23 at the EGM as invalid until the final hearing and disposition of this petition.

Separately, the NCLT Bengaluru bench scheduled the next hearing of the insolvency plea filed by the Board of Control for Cricket in India (BCCI) against the firm on March 20.

According to sources, Byju's counsels pushed for the case to be taken to arbitration. Sources also said that they argued that the BCCI did not render any service post the culmination of the contract and the present debt (₹158 crore) cannot be considered as an operation debt.

Meanwhile, in the NCLT hearing held on Tuesday, Think and Learn and Aakash Educational Services have withdrawn the merger petition. Byju's spokesperson said, "The petition to withdraw the merger approval was a preplanned and mutually agreed process. Both the companies were running independently as separate entities under the Think and Learn brand and continue to do so. What happened at NCLT today (Tuesday)was procedural to complete the required formalities."

Byju's acquired Aakash for about $950 million in a cash and stock deal in 2021.

Recently, the family office of Ranjan Pai, Manipal Education and Medical Group Chairman, invested ₹1,400 crore in Aakash to clear its debt to Davidson Kempner. For Byju's, both its subsidiaries Aakash and Great Learning have been performing well, as they grew 40% and 77%, respectively, immediately after acquisition. Last year, Byju's had announced that it would launch the IPO of Aakash mid 2024.

'Global ecosystem will mobilise to make India preferred destination for chips'

ENS ECONOMIC BUREAU @ New Delhi

THE semiconductor manufacturing hubs in India will have a lasting impact on the entire country, said N Chandrasekaran, Chairman of Tata Sons, on Wednesday.

Chandrasekaran, speaking at the foundation ceremony of his projects in Dholera (Gujarat) and Jagiroad (Assam), also mentioned that the global ecosystem will mobilise to make India a preferred destination for semiconductor manufacturing.

"Today is a special day for the Tata group, with the foundation stone being laid simultaneously for our projects in Dholera and Jagiroad 2,500 km apart. These manufacturing hubs will have a lasting impact on the entire nation. The ecosystem from across the globe will mobilise to have India as their preferred semiconductor destination. On this occasion, I would like to thank Hon'ble Prime Minister Shri Narendra Modi ji for his enduring vision to bring the semiconductor industry to the shores of our country," he said.

The semiconductor fabrication facility at Dholera, Gujarat, is being developed in collaboration with Powerchip Semiconductor Manufacturing Corporation (PSMC) of Taiwan. The company said with an investment of up to ₹91,000 crore, India's first AI-enabled Fab is poised to generate over 20,000 direct and indirect skilled jobs.

He also said today every major economy is looking for self-sufficiency in the semiconductor supply chain. There are three fundamental reasons for this: First, the chip shortage during the pandemic made us realise the importance of electronics and our dependency on the global supply chain. Second, with cyber warfare becoming commonplace, self-sufficiency in chips is a must and a matter of national security. Finally, a domestic semiconductor manufacturing ecosystem is a must-have to galvanise the indigenous product ecosystem of tomorrow.

Tata Guj plant to roll out semicon by Dec 2026

ENS ECONOMIC BUREAU @ New Delhi

THE first set of semiconductors will start rolling out from Tata Electronics plant in December 2026, said minister for communications and IT Ashwini Vaishnaw on Wednesday.

Vaishnaw, speaking at the ground-breaking ceremony of Tata Group and CG Power chip plants, said India will be among the top five chip ecosystems in the world by 2029. "The first chip from Dholera plant will be out in December 2026 and chip from Micron plant will be out by December 2024," he said.

He said Dholera plant will make chips in 28, 50, 55 nanometer nodes. PM Narendra Modi on Wednesday laid foundation of three chip plants, two units by Tata Electronics and third by CG Power at an investment of ₹1.26 lakh crore.

'Slower pvt investment growth due to moderate price rise in capital goods'

MONIKA YADAV @ New Delhi

AMID the growing debate over whether private investment is picking up or not, member, Economic Advisory Council of Prime Minister (EAC-PM) Arvind Virmani has said that to know the real picture of private investment one has to see the numbers on the basis of constant prices.

In an interaction with this paper, he said that the private investment in nominal terms or current prices seems to be slowing down majorly because of moderate rise in the prices of plant and machinery.

"Price of capital/investment goods is rising slower than that of the GDP. When the ratio of the current prices of investment (investment in equipment and machinery) to GDP is declining much less than at constant prices, it means they are spending the same amount but buying more," Virmani said.

He stated that the inflation in the capital goods was less than everywhere else, that's why the real prices went down. "With the same amount of money, you could buy more capital goods. In money terms it seemed it was going down but in real terms it wasn't going down," Virmani said.

He added that there was a small fall in private investment in real terms also due to significant fall in household savings and investments in physical goods and real estate. "Almost 95% of the decline in real investment to GDP ratio was due to one factor -- households were investing less in housing structure," Virmani added.

However, he further added that this lag is now recovering. According to him, it is important to understand the past trend to know the present. "Unless you understand the past, you can't understand the present. It wasn't due to a slowdown in private investment. There was a small decline in real terms that was due to decline in household investment in housing," he said. He fustressed that the housing investment was earlier going down, but now it is coming up.

The picturesque northern state of Uttarakhand is well-known for its spiritual importance and stunning natural magnificence. Among the various destinations that attract devotees and visitors alike, Badrinath and Kedarnath stand out as embodiments of devotion and serenity. At the vanguard of restoring these consecrated places and utilizing their prospect for spiritual tourism is Prime Minister Narendra Modi, whose relentless dedication and commitment have prompted transformative tasks in Uttarakhand.

Prime Minister Narendra Modi shares a deep-rooted affinity with Uttarakhand, especially Badrinath and Kedarnath, and this is apparent through his multiple visits and visionary endeavours desired to uplift these venerated pilgrimage sites. The aspirations of PM Modi are much more than only reverence; he foresees a new individuality for Uttarakhand by promoting Badrinath and Kedarnath Dham to international importance.

> The reconstruction measures, associated with PM Modi's focus on maintaining its spiritual significance, have reformed Kedarnath to its previous glory, drawing pilgrims from across the world

The most important aspect of this vision of PM Narendra Modi is the complete reconstruction of Kedarnath Dham, an undertaking close to his heart since the beginning of his tenure as the Prime Minister. The wrecking floods of 2013 initiated a revitalised emphasis on revamping Kedarnath, with PM Modi spearheading measures to assure that the reconstruction showcases brilliance and divinity befitting its essence. From building the statue of Adi Guru Shankaracharya to observing the progress first-hand, PM Modi's hands-on strategy highlights his dedication to maintaining the sanctity of Kedarnath.

Furthermore, strategic endeavours by PM Modi spread beyond Kedarnath to enclose the holistic growth of the spiritual infrastructure of Uttarakhand. Projects such as the Badrinath Dham Master Plan modelled after the Kashi Vishwanath Corridor, seek to remake Badrinath into a smart spiritual hilltown, portraying the vision of PM Modi for incorporating tradition with modernity. The Delhi-Dehradun Economic Corridor and the Rishikesh Karnprayag Rail Project additionally highlight his dedication to improving connectivity and accessibility to these holy places.

The result of these endeavours by Prime Minister Modi is discernible, with Uttarakhand seeing a revival in spiritual tourism and pilgrimage footfall. The All Weather Road Project, also known as the Chardham Road Project, seeks to link the four Dhams of Uttarakhand, enabling seamless journeys for devotees and visitors alike. Likewise, the Rishikesh Karnprayag Rail Project, with its enterprising timeline and ingenious technique, vows to improve accessibility to Kedarnath and adjacent areas.

The importance of Kedarnath and Badrinath surpasses spiritual borders, echoing with believers and nature lovers globally. Situated amid the snow-capped peaks of the Himalayas, Kedarnath carries a unique place as one of the 12 Jyotirlingas and an essential visit during the esteemed Chardham Yatra. The reconstruction measures, associated with PM Modi's focus on maintaining its spiritual significance, have reformed Kedarnath to its one-time glory, drawing pilgrims from across the world.

The recent inauguration of pivotal infrastructure projects by Prime Minister Modi emphasises the continuous renewal measures in Kedarnath. From unveiling the statue of Adi Guru Shankaracharya to inaugurating essential projects like the Saraswati retaining wall and Teerth Purohit houses, the visit of Prime Minister Narendra Modi signifies a revived dedication to promoting the spiritual legacy of Uttarakhand.

"I congratulate the Uttarakhand government on the remarkable progress achieved in the last few years. This has been made possible by sustained policy push and focus on key sectors such as tourism and renewable energy. Alongside, the state has made significant strides in infrastructure development, setting new benchmarks for sustainable growth. Uttarakhand's commitment to harnessing its natural resources and promoting tourism has not only bolstered its economy but also showcased its potential on the global stage. I applaud the state's dedication to inclusive development and look forward to its continued success in the years ahead."

CM Pushkar Singh Dhami interacting with officials at an MoU event to promote tourism in Uttarakhand

CM Pushkar Singh Dhami on his visit to Corbett National Park

With enterprising targets to contribute USD 10 billion yearly to the economy and draw private investment, Uttarakhand seeks to build a sustainable tourism ecosystem. Job prospects and foreign traveller visits are anticipated to grow, firming the state's position as an exclusive destination.

The idea is transparent – establish tourist-friendly infrastructure, develop new destinations, and offer world-class experiences. With a dedication to innovation, sustainability, and inclusivity, Uttarakhand arises as a shining light of reliable tourism, tempting tourists worldwide.

PM Modi's 'Vibrant Village Programme' bolsters Uttarakhand's rural economy

PM Modi's enterprising 'Vibrant Village Programme' has arisen as a silver lining for the isolated border villages, marking a transformative period of comprehensive growth and economic upliftment

Spanning across 19 border regions, including Uttarakhand, the programme strives to revive 3,000 villages over a 10-year-long course. It bears an important goal of preventing migration by furnishing fundamental conveniences and promoting socio-economic sustainability. In the infancy stage of the program, 662 villages with a total population of 1,42,000 are being supported by means of an investment of Rs 4,800 crore.

Focus on infrastructure and connectivity growth is one of the key elements of the Vibrant Village Programme. The allotment of Rs 2500 crore for building roadways and improving connectivity will give a boost to economic activities in various villages across the country where the geographical landscape constantly poses difficulties. It will foster access to markets, and enhance the overall quality of life for locals.

Along with bolstering the nation's financial stability, the programme also supports the importance of inclusive growth as a cornerstone of India's advancement by prioritising the development of border villages.

With the launch of the Vibrant Village Programme, the border villages in Uttarakhand and as well as other states will benefit greatly, eventually steering in a fresh phase of endless possibilities for the rural economy while reflecting the spirit of Sabka Saath, Sabka Vikas.

Homestays in Uttarakhand: Bridging tradition with modern travel trends

With the advent of the 'work from anywhere' culture, homestays in Uttarakhand provide an ideal setting for the millennials, as well as an idyllic break to those in their golden years

The Government of Uttarakhand is poised to provide the necessary support to proliferate homestays in all districts of the state with a focus on providing alternative sources of employment to the villagers and preventing migration from the original place of dwelling. At present, there are more than 5,000 homestays registered with Uttarakhand Tourism Development Board. The department provides necessary support in terms of marketing and training to the homestay owners. The Government also provides financial support to Homestay owners through the Deen Dayal Upadhyay Grih-Awas (Homestay) Yojana, through which local residents get financial support in rebuilding/renovating rooms to upgrade them for use by tourists.

CM Pushkar Singh Dhami at one of the homestays

Homestays in Uttarakhand have also been recognised by the Ministry of Tourism, Government of India. In the year 2022, Sarmauli Village in Pithoragarh district was awarded the Best Rural Homestay by the Ministry of Tourism, Government of India. Several initiatives such as the Goat Villages, Sendul Village (Tehri Garhwal), and homestays in the Kumaon region have also won accolades. The Government has realised that with increasing awareness about hygiene and, the diverse food habits of travellers, it is essential that the homestays of Uttarakhand constantly upgrade themselves to provide the required services to the tourists. Hence, in addition to developing homestay infrastructure, the Government is also providing training to the local youth in the management and upkeep of these Homestays through professional agencies.

Boosting tourism in lesser-known Uttarakhand destinations

The combined initiative by UTDB and IRCTC seeks to highlight the lesser-known treasures of the state

The Uttarakhand Tourism Development Board (UTDB) and Indian Railways Catering and Tourism Corporation (IRCTC) have come to a remarkable understanding to further enhance tourism in the picturesque state of Uttarakhand. This endeavour seeks to highlight the lesser-known treasures of the state, like Manaskhand, by launching special tourist trains from different regions of the country.

This special tourist train is intended to begin operations in April 2024 and will accommodate up to 500 tourists per journey in Second AC coaches, providing an easy-going travel experience. The tourists will benefit from the numerous extensive excursion packages which will have everything from onboard conveniences to lodging, transportation, and sightseeing, and will be meticulously handled by IRCTC. The endeavour by UTDB and IRCTC seeks to exhibit the vast cuisine of the state during travels, along with generating occupation prospects for residents by giving them an opportunity to work as guides.

Ashwin reclaims top spot in ICC rankings

A nine-wicket haul in his 100th Test match helped Indian off-spinner Ravichandran Ashwin reclaim the top spot in the bowlers' list, while his captain Rohit Sharma was back in the top-10 at sixth in the batting charts of the latest ICC rankings on Wednesday. Rohit, who smashed a hundred in Dharmsala, rose five places to sixth and within 108 rating points of No 1 ranked Test batter Kane Williamson

'Feels like I'm going to make my debut again'

Out of action since car crash in Dec 2022, Pant ready for return during upcoming IPL

ENS/AGENCIES @ New Delhi/Chennai

WHEN Rishabh Pant makes his much-awaited comeback with the Delhi Capitals later this month (or next), he will feel like a debutant. "I'm excited and nervous at the same time," he was quoted as saying in a press release issued by the franchise. "It feels like I'm going to make my debut again."

The wicketkeeper-batter has not featured in a competitive game since the serious car crash in last week of December 2022. Following the accident, the southpaw had to undergo extensive treatment and rehabilitation. "To be able to play cricket again after everything I have been through is nothing short of a miracle," Pant, who has been out of action for 14 months, said. "I am grateful for all my well-wishers and fans, and most importantly, BCCI and the staff at the NCA. All their love and support continues to give me immense strength."

After an extensive process, Pant was declared fit by the NCA on Tuesday. A day earlier, BCCI secretary, Jay Shah, spoke about the prospect of Pant featuring for India at the T20 World Cup. ""If he can play the T20 World Cup for us, that will be a big thing for us," Shah had said. "He is a big asset for us. If he can keep, he can play the World Cup. Let's see how he does in the IPL."

Upon joining with the franchise for the pre-season camp in Visakhapatnam (Delhi will play a couple of home games there in the first few weeks of the upcoming season), the 26-year-old added: "I am excited to return to Delhi Capitals & the IPL — a tournament I enjoy so much. Our team owners and support staff have been by my side throughout with their full support, guidance and co-operation at every step, for which I am deeply grateful. I can't wait to reunite with my DC family and play in front of the fans again."

Franchise chairman, Parth Jindal, spoke about Pant's resilience. "We are delighted to welcome Rishabh back to the Delhi Capitals family," Jindal said. "The kind of grit and resilience he has displayed in overcoming challenges is inspirational to say the least. We are humbled to have been a part of his journey to recovery, which has been exceptional. Rishabh's return is one of the most highly anticipated ones in recent times, and I can't wait to see him compete again."

Commandos to counter pitch invasion in IPL

FIROZ MIRZA @ Chennai

DURING the ODI World Cup final between hosts India and Australia at the Narendra Modi Stadium last year, a pro-Palestine pitch invader breached the security cordon and got as far as star batter Virat Kohli before being apprehended and escorted out.

The pitch invasion happened again during the first Test against England in Hyderabad in January. A fan wearing Kohli's Test jersey reached the middle to meet India captain Rohit Sharma before the start of the hosts' innings. He touched Rohit's feet before being escorted out by security personnel.

These incidents apparently made the BCCI's Anti-Corruption Unit (ACU) come up with a plan to counter frequent pitch invasions. It put an arrangement in place on an experimental basis since the third Test in Rajkot and implemented the same during the ongoing Women's Premier League. Buoyed by the positive results, the ACU is going to execute the plan on a large scale during the IPL, the first phase of which will begin in Chennai on March 22. Defending champions Chennai Super Kings will host Royal Challengers Bangalore in the season opener at MA Chidambaram Stadium.

A pro-Palestine pitch invader breached the security cordon and got as far as star batter Virat Kohli before being apprehended during the ODI World Cup

While the WPL is being played only in two cities — the first leg was held in Bengaluru followed by matches in New Delhi, the first phase of IPL will be held across 10 cities.

"A dedicated security liaisoning officer (SLO) will be stationed at each venue and he would be accompanied by around 20-25 commandos," a source in the know things told this daily. The ACU hires ex-Army officers as the SLOs. For commandos, it has hired former cops from state and central armed forces, ex-personnel from the Army, Navy and private guards.

"The only responsibility of the designated SLO is to counter pitch invasion threat. He will continuously move around the ground and will be assisted by commandos to keep a check on any unwanted movement into the playing area. The commandos would be scattered around the boundary ropes," the source added.

For the WPL, the ACU has hired around 15-20 commandos. Earlier, the ground used to be manned by the local police. "We used to leave it on local police in the past but it was not yielding desired results so we thought of giving responsibility to our SLOs, who anyway are responsible for the security of teams."

"The point came up for discussion after every series and tournament and it was noted that somehow, this (pitch invasion) menace could not be countered effectively. Given the situation, the ACU after consulting BCCI decided to take the responsibility," added the source.

The ACU has also started briefing players and other stakeholders about possible corrupt approaches during the IPL. It has started briefing and educating them apart from encouraging them to report any corrupt approach. The schedule for the second leg of the tournament is likely to be announced once the dates for the general assembly are out. It is learnt that the matches will be played across 13 venues in the second leg.

Bagan edge Blasters in seven-goal thriller

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE

KERALA Blasters were stretched to their limits on Wednesday. The Yellow Army had to dig deep but could not manage beat Mohun Bagan Super Giant during an Indian Super League match at home. This was only the second loss (3-4) for the Blasters in their last 10 games at home as the Mariners jumped to 39 points, level with the first-placed Mumbai City FC.

The Antonio Lopez Habas-coached side scored first in the fourth minute with a solo effort by Albanian striker Armando Sadiku. The second half was frenetic with six goals in about 40-odd minutes. Kerala Blasters FC midfielder Vibin Mohanan led the foundation, who coupled with Rahul KP unlocked the Mohun defence. Finally, Rahul's simple pass was converted into a goal by equal simplicity by Vibin.

Dimitrios Diamantakos doubled his team's tally in the 63rd minute after the Mariners regained their lead through Sadiku in the 60th. Ranji Trophy: Defiant Vidarbha batters prolong Mumbai's wait

AGENCIES @ Mumbai

A DOGGED fightback from Vidarbha, led by Karun Nair (74) and skipper Akshay Wadkar (56 not out), prolonged Mumbai's wait for a 42nd Ranji Trophy title as the visiting side reached 248/5 in pursuit of a mammoth 538 on the fourth and penultimate day of the final here on Wednesday. Set an improbable target to win the summit clash after being outplayed since the first day afternoon, Vidarbha put up a resolute show with the bat to frustrate their hosts by resorting to stonewalling for the majority of the day.

Nair, who joined the Vidarbha ranks only at the start of this season, was at the forefront of their resistance as he faced as many as 220 balls while batting for 287 minutes to keep Mumbai at bay. But the right-handed batter ultimately fell to the brilliance of Musheer Khan late in the day, with the 19-year-old producing a superb bowling show after setting up the game with 136 in the second innings.

Nair's skipper Wadkar was batting on 56 with Harsh Dubey (11 not out) for company. The team required another 290 runs with five wickets in hand.

Brief scores: Mumbai 224 & 418 vs Vidarbha 105 & 248/5 in 92 ovs (A Taide 32, A Mokhade 32, K Nair 74, A Wadkar batting; Tanush Kotian 2/56, Musheer Khan 2/38).

Vidarbha's Akshay Wadkar & Karun Nair run between the wickets on Day 4 of the Ranji Trophy final against Mumbai at the Wankhede Stadium on Wednesday | PTI

Mumbai managed a couple of wickets each in the first two sessions and the vital scalp of Nair in the last,. They took the second new ball in the 82nd over of the innings. Up until then, Mumbai had tried almost everything on what remained a placid pitch at the Wankhede Stadium. It had more on offer for the home team's spinners who remained persistent throughout. Mumbai's troika of right-arm pacers took turns to come around the wickets to try and bounce out Vidarbha, while spinners operated from both ends to challenge the batters' techniques. In the end, Vidarbha walked away with a moral win of sorts having not capitulated given the occasion and pressure of the final and the fact that a target of 538 is perceived as out of reach for most batting line-ups.

Another woman wrestler wants fresh trials in 50kg

FIROZ MIRZA @ Chennai

A DAY after a woman wrestler wrote to the United World Wrestling raising serious questions over selection trials held in Patiala, Shivanee Pawar, who lost the 50kg final against Vinesh Phogat, followed suit bringing the competition under scanner further. Shivanee, who represented Madhya Pradesh in the trials held to select teams for the Asian Championships and Asian Olympic Games Qualifier, alleged that the draws were manipulated to favour Vinesh. Like her fellow wrestler, Shivanee also requested the UWW to direct the Wrestling Federation of India or ad-hoc committee to hold fresh trials in the 50kg.

Notably, Vinesh, the two-time World Championships medallist, competed in two weight categories (50kg and 53kg) during the trials raising eyebrows. She lost the 53kg semifinal before winning the bronze.

"Why Vinesh was allowed to compete in two weight categories in violation of the UWW rules and regulations?" asked Vikram Kumar, coach of Shivanee. "We raised the issue with the ad-hoc panel but to no avail. Despite the weigh-in starting at 7 AM, the bouts in 50kg started only after 1 PM. The draws were changed as strong wrestlers were placed in Shivanee's group giving an easy route to Vinesh till the final," added the coach.

Shivanee was leading 6-1 before Vinesh made a comeback to win the final by 11-6. The coach alleged that the referee, mat chairman, judge and competition director favoured Vinesh as all of them hail from the Railway Sports Promotion Board (RSPB), which is also the employer of the Haryana wrestler. "Vinesh was awarded points she did not earn. On the contrary, Shivanee was robbed of points which she deserved," accused the coach.

The trials for women wrestlers were organised on Monday jointly by the WFI and ad-hoc panel. The WFI, however, claimed that its representatives were asked to leave the venue during Vinesh's bouts. It also submitted a report to the UWW highlighting the issues that marred the trials.

CHAMPIONS LEAGUE

Arsenal, Barcelona take contrasting routes to advance

AFP @ London

DAVID Raya was the hero as Arsenal beat Porto 4-2 on penalties on Tuesday to reach the Champions League quarter-finals for the first time since 2010. The teams were locked at 1-1 on aggregate after an absorbing second leg at the Emirates but Raya saved twice in the shootout to break the hearts of the two-time champions.

The goalkeeper pulled off a brilliant save to deny Wendell and repeated the feat against Galeno, while the home side converted all four of their penalties.

It is the first time a Champions League match has been decided by penalties since the 2016 final between Real Madrid and Atletico Madrid.

Trailing 1-0 from the first leg, Mikel Arteta's Premier League leaders were not at their fluent best against a disciplined Porto side. Leandro Trossard pulled Arsenal level on aggregate shortly before half-time but neither side could find the killer blow. The Gunners came into the match with 33 goals in their past eight league games — a winning run that has rocketed them to the top of the Premier League. But Sergio Conceicao's men succeeded in frustrating the home team for long periods in the first half, fashioning enough chances of their own make it a nervy night for the expectant fans. Both sides struggled to settle in a scrappy opening period, with Porto doing their best to slow the game down by taking their time with throw-ins and goal kicks, to the audible frustration of the home crowd.

Barcelona's Sergi Roberto celebrates Robert Lewandowski's goal on Tuesday | AP

Tuesday's results (Last 16, second legs)

At London: Arsenal (ENG) 1-0 FC Porto (POR) Tie level 1-1 on aggregate; Arsenal win 4-2 on penalties. At Barcelona: Barcelona (ESP) 3-1 Napoli (ITA); Barcelona win 4-2 on aggregate.

In the other match, Barcelona survived a nervy second half to beat Napoli 3-1 and reach the quarterfinals 4-2 on aggregate.

Xavi Hernandez's side came flying out of the blocks with goals from Fermin Lopez and Joao Cancelo but after Amir Rrahmani pulled one back, the Catalans started to sweat.

Italian champions Napoli, who salvaged a 1-1 draw in the last-16 first leg, were finally beaten when Robert Lewandowski swept home from close range. It is the first time five-time winners Barcelona have reached the last eight of the competition since 2020, and they did so without injured midfield trio Pedri, Gavi and Frenkie de Jong.

"We're in the quarter-finals of the Champions League after four years, it's the moment to enjoy that," Barca coach Xavi told Movistar. "We played a great game, the team gave everything, we dominated in many moments ... (I'm) very proud."

Xavi said he was leaving at the end of the season in January and his team have gone on a run of nine games without defeat after that decision.

Teenage stars Lamine Yamal and Pau Cubarsi have been key to that form, and both excelled against Napoli on a night which offered some relief to Barcelona amid a bleak season.

Emphasis on tertiary sectorThe service

Industry has enormous potential for the growth of our state, and is poised to boost our GDP significantly. Initiatives have been set in motion to attract IT firms to Atal Nagar, paving the way for the creation of 10,000 new jobs annually.

Facilitating private investment

Our goal is to effectively implement the single- window system and leverage digital technology to reduce bureaucratic interference and corruption. We are dedicated to creating more job opportunities for the people of Chhattisgarh.

Marching Towards Balanced Development

We have recently introduced a new policy aimed at uplifting the most underdeveloped regions within the state. Our strategy involves enhancing infrastructure and supporting traditional trade to foster growth in areas such as Bastar and Surguja.

Our policy of inclusive growth focuses not only on economic development but also on social and cultural development. As part of this, we are actively promoting religious tourism in Chhattisgarh. The construction of a Link Road, which will connect five significant religious spots, has already commenced.

Doubling the GDP

We aim to double the GDP from 5 lakh crores to 10 lakh crore within a span of five years. In addition to focusing on infrastructure development, our strategy includes enhancing governance by combating corruption, supporting the private sector, driving industrial growth, and enhancing the skills of our workforce.

Creating Niche Institutions

An advisory council on economic matters has been established with the aim of proposing strategies to enhance the economy. Likewise, in order to monitor the effective practices of various departments and recommend improved approaches, a completely new department called the Good Governance and Convergence Department has been established. Additionally, we have devised plans to position Chhattisgarh as a front runner in eco- tourism, medical tourism, and as a center for alternative forms of medicine.

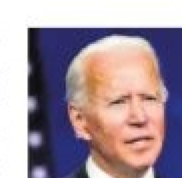
Biden, Trump set for poll rematch in Nov after winning party nominations

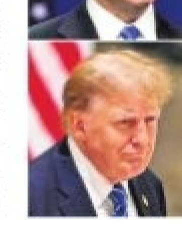
WASHINGTON

US PRESIDENT Joe Biden and his predecessor Donald Trump are set for a bitter election rematch in November after they secured their parties' presidential nominations with impressive wins in another round of key primaries. Biden, 81, won the Democratic presumptive nomination on Tuesday after easily clinching the presidential primaries in Georgia, as the number of delegates in his kitty crossed the halfway mark of 3,933 pledged delegates.

A total of 1,968 delegates were required to win the Democratic nomination. Four states -- Georgia, Hawaii, Mississippi, Washington -- one American territory and Democrats living abroad held their primaries on Tuesday. Trump would formally be declared the party's nomination during the Democratic National Convention in Chicago in August. Trump, 77, reached the 1,215 delegates necessary with an allocation of delegates from Washington state. He will be officially nominated at the Republican National Convention in Milwaukee this July. Trump will lead the Republican Party in a third consecutive presidential election after clinching the nomination Tuesday.

Their rematch, long anticipated, but hardly clamoured for, is broadly expected to mirror the 2020 campaign, though Trump will run this time under the spectre of 91 felony charges. Trump is scheduled to become the first former American president to go on trial in a criminal case on March 25 in New York, where he faces charges he falsified business records to hide hush money payments to a porn star. Other charges are related to allegations that he plotted to overturn his 2020 election defeat; played a lead role in the January 6, 2021, insurrection at the US Capitol and illegally took classified documents from the White House. Biden said he is honoured to become his party's presumptive nominee and warned of another Trump presidency. "I am honoured that the broad coalition of voters representing the rich diversity of the Democratic Party across the country has put their faith in me once again to lead our party ' and our country ' in a moment when the threat Trump poses is greater than ever," Biden said in a statement after he bagged majority of the delegates. Meanwhile, Trump's campaign posted a video on X of the former president after he clinched the nomination.





'This was a great day of victory. Last week was something very special ' Super Tuesday ' but now we have to get back to work because we have the worst president in the history of the country. His name is Joe Biden, sometimes referred to as crooked Joe Biden, and he must be defeated,' Trump said in the video. Democratic National Convention (DNC) Chair Jaime Harrison said this year's election will decide the future of democracy. PTI

National award-winning actor and screenwriter Saurabh Shukla is bringing his critically-acclaimed play Barff – which delves into the concept of truth and illusion – to Bengaluru this weekend

THE HONEST TRUTH

DESE GOWDA

THE subjectivity of truth has captivated humanity for millennia. Depending on perspectives, experiences, and beliefs, the same truth can hold different meanings for different people. What one person holds true may not be for another, and what is considered true today may be questioned or disproven tomorrow.

Acclaimed actor-screenwriter Saurabh Shukla's play Barff – returning to Bengaluru nearly five years after its debut – explores this fluidity. "It delves into the concept of truth, which is intentionally vague. It questions what truth is, suggesting that 'truth is truth,' but whose truth is the truth? Where does it ultimately lead?" says Shukla.

Starring Shukla, Sadia Siddiqui and Sunil Palwal, Barff is set against the backdrop of a frigid Kashmiri winter, and unfolds over a single night. A doctor, far from his familiar urban surroundings, finds himself lured to a remote house under the guise of treating a sick child. However, upon arrival, he is taken captive by a cab driver and his wife. The title, Barff (meaning ice in Hindi), serves as a metaphor for the emotional distance and hardened mindsets that often accompany conflict. "I wanted to build a story around this idea of isolation, and initially, I placed the story in Maharashtra. However, as I developed the story, I found that the seclusion did not feel authentic or well-grounded in that location," Shukla shares, adding, "At that time, Kashmir was experiencing insurgency, and it was cut-off from the rest of the world for years. During a visit to Kashmir for a shoot, I was struck by its natural beauty and the warmth of its people. But there was also an underlying sense of unease. Despite the apparent tranquillity, anything could go wrong at any moment. This unsettling feeling led me to revisit the story. I changed the setting to Kashmir, incorporating the culture, atmosphere, and personal observations I had gathered during my visit."

Originally conceived as a screenplay, Shukla later decided that it was more suited for the stage. However, the adaptation meant that creating an authentic feel of a frigid Kashmir night was quite a challenge. "In a film, visual depiction helps establish the setting and events, whereas in a play, there's less visual representation. Initially, this seemed like a problem, but it ended up becoming a strength of the play. We created a space where the audience could be transported to the setting of the story," shares the 61-year-old, adding, "One of the best compliments I've received for the play is that audience members often say they felt transported to the snow mountains and the secluded setting during the performance. It was exciting to achieve this theatrical effect. We started designing, and lighting became a crucial element. We had to decide whether to light up the entire stage or leave some dark spaces. Leaving some dark spaces would make the audience wonder what was happening beyond the light, engaging their imagination. The set design was also important. We wanted it to be minimalistic and slightly darker in colour."

A still from the play

At a time when polarisation is the new normal, Barff's exploration of the idea of truth is quite relevant. But Shukla says it was a happy coincidence that wasn't intended. "I believe that the purpose of any art is to engage the audience. A gripping story keeps one invested. My personal experiences, including the people I've met, the ideologies I've encountered, all contribute to the creation of my art. The way I think, my worldview, and the environment I've been raised in, influence the reflections that emerge in my work," he shares, adding, "Polarisation has become a new reality, a new normal. While it may not be ideal, it's something we must acknowledge and navigate. People are finding ways to cope with it, and it's part of the human experience. However, the starting point of my art is not to highlight or condemn specific issues; rather, it's to engage the audience and create a meaningful experience."

World Kidney Day 14 MARCH 2024

FROM CRISIS TO HOPE: NURTURING GLOBAL KIDNEY HEALTH

BY DR. MANOHAR T, DR. NAVEEN M NAYAK & DR. ARUN KUMAR N

As the world marks yet another World Kidney Day on March 14th, 2024, the focus remains steadfast on elevating awareness about kidney health and bolstering efforts to combat kidney diseases worldwide. This year's theme, "Kidneys: Advancing equitable access to care and optimal medication practice," underscores the pivotal role of preventive care and emphasises the importance of equitable access to kidney health resources.

The kidneys, often unsung heroes of our bodies, perform a multitude of essential functions, including filtering waste and excess fluids from the blood, regulating blood pressure, and producing hormones vital for red blood cell production. Yet, despite their critical role, kidney diseases continue to pose a significant global health challenge.

The prevalence of kidney diseases is steadily escalating, propelled by an array of interconnected factors such as aging populations, the rise in non-communicable diseases like diabetes and hypertension, and lifestyle choices. According to the World Health Organisation (WHO), kidney diseases affect millions of people worldwide, with many cases going undiagnosed until reaching advanced stages.

At least 1 in 10 people worldwide is living with kidney disease. According to the Global Burden of Disease study in 2022, over 3.1 million deaths were attributed to kidney dysfunction, making it the seventh leading risk factor for death worldwide.

However, global mortality from all kidney diseases may actually range between 5 and 11 million per year if the estimated lives lost, especially in lower-resource settings, from acute kidney injury and from lack of access to kidney replacement therapy for kidney failure (KF) are also counted. These high global death rates reflect disparities in prevention, early detection, diagnosis, and treatment of chronic kidney disease (CKD).

India has a burgeoning demand for kidney transplants, with an estimated incidence rate of ESRD requiring renal replacement therapy (RRT) at about 229 per million population. Despite this, the transplant rate significantly lags behind need, with approximately 7,500 kidney transplants performed annually. This discrepancy is partly attributed to the limited number of donors and transplantation centers concentrated in urban areas. Living donor transplants predominate, spurred by cultural and regulatory frameworks, while deceased donor transplants, though on the rise, remain underutilised.

Equally critical is the emphasis on early detection and intervention. Regular health check-ups, particularly for individuals with pre-existing conditions such as diabetes and hypertension, enable timely identification of kidney problems, allowing for prompt management and potentially preventing further deterioration.

Investing in kidney health encompasses broader societal endeavors, including advocating for policies that ensure universal access to quality healthcare services. Ensuring that everyone, regardless of socioeconomic status, has access to affordable healthcare, including screenings, diagnostic tests, and treatment options, is paramount in addressing the burden of kidney diseases.

Efforts to promote organ donation and transplantation also feature prominently in the global kidney health agenda. Organ transplantation remains the most effective treatment for end-stage kidney disease, offering patients a chance at a better quality of life and extended survival.

Apollo Kidney Conquests

Case I:

Apollo Hospitals, Seshadripuram, achieves groundbreaking liver-kidney transplant for 8-year-old Tamil Nadu girl. Aquadex-Aquaresis by Waynia revolutionises the procedure. Lakshmi faced hepatic fibrosis and kidney disease, needing urgent transplant. Family overcame hurdles, received organ donation. Dr. Arun Kumar N, Senior Consultant Nephrologist and Transplant Physician spearheaded Aquadex use in this case and maintained immunosuppression for kidney transplantation. Surgery showcased precision. Dr. Manohar T, Chief of Urology Services, Uro-oncology, and Kidney Transplantation, Laser, Laparoscopic, and Robotic Surgeon expertise crucial in overcoming challenges of the space constraint for the kidney the complex vascular anastomosis in the young girl. Apollo's commitment to excellence is evident. Lakshmi's journey symbolises hope and medical progress.

Case II

Lingappa and Naveed, with neurogenic bladder issues deemed unfit for renal transplant, underwent complex bladder surgery. Subsequently, they received renal transplants. Miraculously, both now excrete urine naturally, defying medical expectations. Public education and community engagement are pivotal in fostering a culture of kidney health awareness and organ donation. By dispelling myths and misconceptions surrounding kidney diseases and transplantation, communities can become empowered advocates for their health and champions for the cause of kidney health on a broader scale.

Case III

In a remarkable display of love and selflessness, Mr. Sebastin underwent an HIV renal transplant, donated by his wife to save her husband's life. This groundbreaking procedure, performed at our esteemed hospital, not only defies medical odds but also strengthens the bond between the devoted couple. With meticulous care and cutting-edge technology, our expert medical team ensured the success of this life-changing transplant. Mr. Sebastin now looks forward to a renewed lease on life, filled with gratitude for his wife's extraordinary gift.

Preventive Strategies Take Center Stage on World Kidney Day 2024

World Kidney Day is an annual global campaign observed on the second Thursday of March, dedicated to raising awareness about kidney health and the importance of kidney function in our overall well-being. World Kidney Day is a joint initiative of the International Society of Nephrology (ISN) and the International Federation of Kidney Foundations (IFKF).

■In 2024, it falls on the 14th of March, and the event holds even greater significance as the world continues to grapple with the challenges posed by kidney diseases and their associated complications.

■Among people with kidney disease, only 7% to 20% are aware of their illness until they reach end-stage renal disease.

So, the theme for World Kidney Day 2024 revolves around preventive strategies and early detection methods, emphasising the crucial role of lifestyle choices in maintaining kidney health.

■With the prevalence of risk factors such as diabetes, hypertension, and obesity on the rise, especially in India, the focus is on encouraging individuals to adopt healthier habits.

■This year's campaign also highlights the importance of environmental factors in kidney health, advocating for cleaner air and access to clean water, both of which are essential for preventing kidney disease.

■Healthcare professionals, policymakers, and organisations worldwide are joining forces to promote screenings and kidney health check-ups, particularly targeting vulnerable populations.

■Technological advancements and improvements in healthcare delivery such as telemedicine platforms and AI can facilitate greater access to kidney care services.

■World Kidney Day 2024 also serves as a platform for advocating for equitable access to kidney transplantation and dialysis services, addressing disparities in healthcare delivery, and promoting organ donation initiatives.

■A combined liver and kidney transplant offers hope for children with complex conditions like congenital hepatic fibrosis and autosomal recessive polycystic kidney disease. This dual transplant not only addresses liver dysfunction but also replaces faulty kidneys, enhancing quality of life and longevity.

Dr Manohar T emphasises: Kidneys are susceptible to damage or injury due to following reasons in that order;

▲Kidney diseases either due to acquired diseases like diabetes , hypertension etc , certain immunological causes, iatrogenic and congenital
▲Kidney stones, common during summer
▲Kidney infections
▲Certain illogical fasting with unsupervised dieting and injudicious use of medications
▲Kidney tumors
Three things are common in all:
▲All leads to kidney failure if unidentified early
▲All occurs (90%) after 35 years of age
▲All are treatable, some curable, if treated early

Global mortality from all kidney diseases may actually range between 5 and 11 million per year if the estimated lives lost, especially in lower-resource settings, from acute kidney injury and from lack of access to kidney replacement therapy for kidney failure (KF) are also counted.

COLOURS THAT KILL

DR SRIKANTH K P

KARNATAKA BANS CANCER-CAUSING ARTIFICIAL COLOURS FOUND IN PROCESSED FOODS. HERE'S WHY IN DETAIL

THE Karnataka government just announced a ban on food additives that are used in gobi manchurian and cotton candy after running a special drive to test these food items. Rhodamine B is a colouring agent used in cotton candy to increase its vibrant appeal. This additive, found in ultra-processed foods, is carcinogenic and linked to blood and liver cancers in children and also in adults. Apart of Rhodamine B, other harmful additives heavily used in foods include Sunset Yellow, Carmoisine, and Tartrazine.

How do we identify processed foods?

The NOVA Food Classification System categorises food based on processing levels into four categories or groups with Category 1 being non-processed foods and Category 4 as ultra-processed foods.

CATEGORY 1: Unprocessed Foods: Whole grains, legumes, vegetables, fruits, nuts, milk, and meat fall under this category. They are not altered by any food additives and inedible parts like husks are removed from these foods as and when found. No added sugar, salt, oil, or fat is present in foods under this group.

CATEGORY 2: Processed Culinary Ingredients: These are obtained directly from category 1 foods or nature, such as oil, sugar, and salt. They are produced through industrial processes like pressing, centrifuging, extracting, mining, or refining. These ingredients are commonly used for seasoning and cooking category 1 foods. For example – the traditional South Indian curry where oil, pulses, vegetables, and salt are used.

CATEGORY 3: Processed Foods: This combines non-processed foods or category 1 foods with category 2 ingredients like salt or sugar. Preservation methods such as canning, bottling, and non-alcoholic fermentation (used in bread and cheese) are used to increase the durability of these foods and make them more enjoyable, enhancing their taste.

CATEGORY 4: Ultra-Processed Foods: Foods under this group are heavily altered through various levels of industrial processing. Colours, flavours, emulsifiers, and additives are all used to make these foods highly palatable and likable, leading to huge consumption and popularity among people.

These food items have high calories but very low-nutrient, such as:

- Carbonated soft drinks
- Sweets and savoury packaged snacks
- Chocolates, candies, ice creams
- Mass-produced packaged breads, buns, and bakery items
- Margarine and other spreads
- Cookies, pastries, cakes, and cake mixes
- Breakfast cereals
- Pre-prepared pies, pasta, and pizza dishes
- Fish and chicken nuggets, sticks, and sausages
- Burgers, hot dogs, and other reconstituted meat products
- Powdered and packaged instant soups, noodles and desserts

The list is quite long! The problem with these foods is Rhodamine B is heavily used in their preparation. These additives increase their palatability with extended shelf life, people love to consume and store these food products out of convenience, without realising the harm these food items can cause to our health. Thus, calling for a ban on these additives in food items is a great start towards good health.

Opting for whole, unprocessed foods (Category 1 of the NOVA Food Classification System) and minimising the consumption of ultra-processed foods (Category 4) is a step towards a healthier diet. Moreover, educating ourselves about food categories and how they impact health is also crucial as it helps us make informed decisions about appropriate food choices.

Survey finds one in three working women open to considering egg freezing

In a survey conducted by Plum, an insurtech platform, nearly 30 per cent of working women expressed openness to considering egg freezing. Another 50 per cent said that they might consider it if they get more knowledge about the same. Egg freezing is the process of retrieving eggs from the woman's ovaries and freezing them for later use when the woman feels ready for conception. The study cited that egg-freezing decisions involve navigating various factors such as age-related fertility concerns, relationship plans, career aspirations, financial considerations, insurance coverage and personal health. Egg freezing costs in India range from ₹1,20,000 to ₹2,50,000. Workplaces can empower female employees by including it in their health benefits package, with 95 per cent emphasising the importance of insurance coverage in egg-freezing decisions.

Sleep stories

Ahead of World Sleep Day on Friday, here's all that you need to know about sleep apnea

DR SACHIN D

OBSTRUCTIVE Sleep Apnea (OSA) is a sleep-related breathing disorder that involves a decrease or complete halt in airflow despite an ongoing effort to breathe. It occurs when the muscles relax during sleep, causing soft tissue in the back of the throat to collapse and block the upper airway which leads to partial reductions (hypopneas) and complete pauses (apneas) in breathing that last at least 10 seconds during sleep.

This leads to hypoxic awakening of brain causing a brief arousal from sleep that restores normal breathing. This pattern can occur cyclically multiple times in a night, resulting in fragmented quality of sleep and often produces an excessive level of daytime sleepiness. Most people with OSA snore loudly and frequently, with periods of silence when airflow is reduced or blocked then they make choking, snorting or gasping sounds when their airway reopens.

EPIDEMIOLOGY

OSA is the most common sleep-related breathing disorder, which is commonly seen in older males and obese, although it can also affect women and children. Community based epidemiological studies from India have shown that the prevalence of OSA is 2.4 per cent to 5 per cent in males and 1 to 2 per cent in females.

RISK FACTORS

- Older age (over 60 years of age)
- Male (similar in post-menopausal women)
- Genetic factors
- Obesity
- People with large neck sizes
- Endocrine factors: Acromegaly, Hypothyroidism, PCOD, pregnancy and post-menopausal age.
- Craniofacial abnormalities: Retroposed small chin, tonsil or adenoid enlargement, nasal-obstruction, large tongue (Down's Syndrome) and upper airway tumours.
- Smoking
- Medical conditions: Hypertension, congestive heart failure, end stage renal disease, stroke, chronic lung disease like asthma, COPD, IPF, Parkinson's, fibromyalgia, gastroesophageal reflux disease.

CLINICAL PRESENTATION

- Excessive daytime sleepiness: Fatigue, poor concentration, decreased cognition, drowsiness while driving due to non-restorative sleep.
- Snoring, choking, gasping during sleep
- Morning headaches
- Sleep disturbance, nocturia, dry mouth, bruxism, nocturnal angina/palpitations.
- Consequences of persistent interrupted sleep: Chronic elevation in daytime blood pressure; decreased libido; increased risk of stroke; higher rate of death due to heart disease; impaired glucose tolerance and insulin resistance; impaired concentration; mood changes; increased risk of being involved in a deadly motor vehicle accident; and disturbed sleep of the bed partner.

COMPLICATIONS

- Cardiovascular and cerebrovascular (hypertension, coronary artery disease, cardiac arrhythmias, heart failure, and stroke).
- Metabolic syndrome and diabetes
- Excessive day time sleepiness, resulting in potential motor vehicle crashes (up to three times more common)
- Neuropsychiatric (inattention, memory, moodiness and irritability as well as depression, psychosis, and sexual dysfunction)
- Pulmonary hypertension or right heart failure
- Non-alcoholic fatty liver disease, gout, decreased quality of life

DIAGNOSIS

- Polysomnography (sleep study) – Attended in-laboratory polysomnography (PSG) is considered the gold-standard diagnostic test for OSA. Home sleep apnea testing (using portable sleep monitors) is usually preferred in high probability patients.

MANAGEMENT

- PAP Therapy: All patients diagnosed with OSA should be offered Positive Airway Pressure (PAP) as initial therapy. It is mainstay of therapy for adults with OSA.
- CPAP (Continuous PAP): It is the preferred mode. APAP (Automatic PAP) may be similar to CPAP but with slightly lesser evidence.
- Oral appliances (mandibular advancement devices, tongue retaining devices): They are an alternative therapeutic strategy in OSA that may be offered to selected patients.
- Upper airway surgery: Alternative therapy with insufficient data.
- Hypoglossal nerve stimulation: An upcoming method in selected patients only.

Chow Chow Bath offers a new flavour to romantic tales

CHOW CHOW BATH

Director: Kenja Chethan Kumar

Cast: Aruna Balraj Sushmitha Bhat, Sagar Gowda, Dhanush S Baikampady Sankalp Sharma, and Getha Bangera

A SHARADHAA

IMAGINE love as a plate of Chow Chow Bath, where each spoonful offers a different taste. There's sweetness in moments of passion, a dash of spice in the excitement, and comforting warmth in times of vulnerability. Much like how the dish combines diverse ingredients to create harmony, Kenja Chethan Kumar's portrayal of love and relationships, akin to the title Chow Chow Bath, mirrors this mix, ranging from thrilling highs to vulnerable lows. With an intricately woven narrative, the director invites viewers to savour the complexities of romance with grace.

Just like how a cook at the hotel, the mother at home, or just anyone preparing the dish adds their unique touch to Chow Chow Bath, Kenja Chethan Kumar brings a fresh perspective to his film, where most of the cast consists of new faces. The director has employed a lot of creativity to bring his fresh perspective, to show the different shades of love in a relationship.

Sachin (Dhanush S Baikampady), is a charming and impulsive young man, who finds himself head over heels for Saanvi (Prakarsha Shastry), whom he meets at a wedding. Despite their immediate connection, Saanvi hesitates to commit fully to Sachin due to her elder sister's unmarried status, which she feels obligated to address before pursuing her own happiness.

Meanwhile, at Majestic Railway Station, Shashank (Sagar Gowda), a reserved and introspective individual, crosses paths with the love of his life unexpectedly. Amidst the hustle and bustle of the crowded station, he locks eyes with a mysterious woman, their connection instantaneous yet beautiful. Determined to uncover her identity, Shashank takes on a quest that leads him to unexpected revelations about himself and the nature of love.

Elsewhere, Sathya (Sankalp Sharma) living amidst the green land of the Malnad region, a mischievous and carefree spirit, finds himself drawn to a girl named Sandhya (Sushmitha Bhat), whom he meets at a medical camp. Despite his initial reluctance to take anything seriously, Sathya's encounter with this young girl awakens a newfound sense of purpose within him, prompting him to reevaluate his priorities and pursue love with unabashed fervour.

As the three lives intertwine and converge, forming a hyperlink, Chow Chow Bath explores the myriad facets of love, from its exhilarating highs to its devastating lows. In one corner, we have the girl's father, who staunchly opposes the idea of love marriages, while in stark contrast, a mother passionately supports her son's quest for love, determined to see him happy. Then there's a young woman grappling with the challenges of matching horoscopes and the despair of facing an uncertain future without marriage. Meanwhile, another character struggles to let go of a past love, while yet another person is solely focused on practicality, seeking stability above all else.

As their stories unfold, viewers are invited to reflect on their own experiences of love and the lessons it teaches about acceptance, and the beauty of life's twists and turns. Amidst the myriad emotions portrayed in Chow Chow Bath, there's something for everyone to connect with.

However, Kumar doesn't merely scratch the surface of these relationships; he looks into the complexities of human emotions, portraying the joys, heartaches, and uncertainties that accompany love. His vision, accompanied by relatively fresh actors, brings a raw authenticity to the storytelling. At one point, I did wonder whether the film could have been elevated with popular actors or stars who are known for romantic dramas. Probably, they would have enhanced the flavour. But these fresh actors bring in a fresh aroma. Among these actors, a familiar face is Aruna Balraj, whose portrayal stands out, bringing soulful depth. Sagar Gowda's portrayal of navigating through love's maze is equally captivating, while Sushmitha Bhat skillfully brings emotional balance to life. Even Geetha Bangera as Sneha, who is finding it difficult to find a groom, adds to the richness of this romantic drama.

Sachin's (Dhanush) unexpected reason for visiting Saanvi's house under the pretext of finding a groom for her sister is interesting. All the complexities of love, accompanied by soulful music by Hemanth Jois and cinematography by Rudramuni Belegere, bring out the essence of each character's journey.

Above all, it's the portrayal of love's complexity, with its bitter-sweet essence, that lingers, much like the flavours of a well-prepared dish. It's worth noting that the hyperlink romantic tale, Chow Chow Bath, stands out for its lack of commercial elements, which are typically found in mainstream films. This groundedness adds a distinct flavour to the film, leaving a lasting impression on the audience.

'IT'S THE CHARACTER THAT DEFINES THE HERO, NOT THE OTHER WAY AROUND'

...says Shrestha, who talks about his journey of coming to the city to become an actor, and his debut as a lead in Abhi's upcoming film, Somu Sound Engineer

A still from the film

A SHARADHAA

SHRESTHA can be one of the best examples of dreams and aspirations taking flight. A confident and determined actor, Shrestha tries to break the mould of the conventional cinema hero, with every role. Despite his atypical journey, Shrestha, who pursued his dream of becoming an actor, believes that in the art of storytelling, it's the character that defines the hero and not the other way around.

"If people look closely at the character, they'll find the hero within," says Shrestha. Following his character roles in Suri's Kaddipudi and Vijay Kumar's Salaga, among other films, he is now all set to test the waters as a lead in Abhi's Somu Sound Engineer, slated to release this week.

The film, produced by Christopher Kini, also stars Nivishka Patil, Chandana Gowda, and Girish Jatti in principal roles. Somu Sound Engineer, backed by a strong technical team, has Maasthi penning the dialogues, Deepu S Kumar handling the editing, and Charan Raj composing the music.

Shrestha's backstory is fascinating - a ninth-standard dropout with a background in agriculture. He admits that he had two passions – cricket and movies. "A shepherd in my native reminded me of an episode of Shivarajkumar's Jogi, that inspired me to leave my village and come to the city. At the age of 17, I made a move to the city, fueled solely by the determination to become an actor," he says

With no sort of connections in the city, Shrestha admits to taking on various odd jobs. From serving tea to working as an office boy at the editor's office, he was gradually immersing himself into the world of cinema, for three years. "My first breakthrough came because of dialogue writer Maasthi, through whom I got to debut with a minor role in Kaddipudi and got subsequent opportunities, including a memorable stint in Salaga," he says.

Shrestha cherishes every hardship as part of his journey that led him toward playing the lead on the silver screen. "I believe that every passionate actor has a place in cinema. It equally depends on the important opportunities and challenges that they're faced with. A lot of people discouraged me and laughed at my face when I told them I wanted to be an actor. I've never let negativity hold me back. Choosing optimism has probably been the driving force behind how far I have come. It is better to face the challenge and achieve than regret letting go of opportunities. Confidence and hard work got me into the cinema," he says.

Looking ahead, Shrestha remains humble, prioritizing collaboration with directors who share his vision. "While I have received offers for multiple projects, I am patiently awaiting the outcome of Somu Sound Engineer, after which I will make my next move," he says.

My role in Hide & Seek is atypical: Anoop Revanna

Anoop Revanna

CE FEATURES

ANOOP Revanna, an up-and-coming actor, who was last seen in a pivotal role in R Chandru's Kabzaa, will next be seen in Hide & Seek, which is set to hit theatres this week. Talking about his career path, the actor emphasises the need for meaningful roles even in commercial cinema. "Even in commercial films, there should be substance," says Anoop as he cites the example of his latest film, Hide & Seek, adding "The storyline of this suspense thriller was what caught my attention."

The film, produced by Vasantrao M Kulkarni, and directed by Puneeth Nagaraj, stars Dhanya Ramkumar as the female lead. The film's supporting cast includes Bala Rajavadi, Suraj Jaggi, Aravind Rao, Krishna Hebbale, and Rajesh Nataranga. Rijo P John has handled the cinematography, and Sandy Adanki has composed the music for the film.

Discussing the unique qualities of Hide & Seek, Anoop further shares, "Though it is a fictional story, it is a subject that is less experimented with in Kannada cinema, especially the unconventional portrayal of characters. The role of the protagonist is not stereotypical; it's a manipulative, negative character."

Anoop further sheds light on his role, revealing that his character is part of an illegal kidnapping organisation operating with corporate precision. "The narrative explores the complexities of the organisation and the challenges he faces as a member of this gang," he reveals.

Highlighting the dedication of Puneeth Nagaraj, Anoop shares that the director spent four years developing the project, taking his time to refine the screenplay. "His dedication towards the project and the craft pulled me to this project. I was confident about the story and his vision."

In addition to Hide & Seek, Anoop has also begun another commercial venture titled Lords of Lanka, which has completed a schedule.

The Batman Part II pushed to 2026

CE FEATURES

EARLIER, we had reported that The Batman - Part II, the sequel to The Batman, helmed by Matt Reeves, would hit the theatres on October 3, 2025. However, it has now been learned that the film's release date has been postponed and is now slated for release on October 2, 2026.

It is to be noted that Robert Pattinson, who played the Caped Crusader in the 2022 film, will be returning to the role in the sequel. There is no information available yet on which other actors from the original movie will also be part of the sequel. In the first film, Zoë Kravitz starred as Catwoman, Andy Serkis played Alfred Pennyworth, Colin Farrell portrayed the villainous Penguin, and Jeffrey Wright played the character of James Gordon, the police chief of Gotham City.

It's worth noting that last year, the heads of DC Studios, James Gunn and Peter Safran, announced 10 different projects that make up the first chapter of a long-term interconnected universe of movies and shows based on DC Comics characters. On the occasion, they also confirmed that The Batman would be a trilogy.
